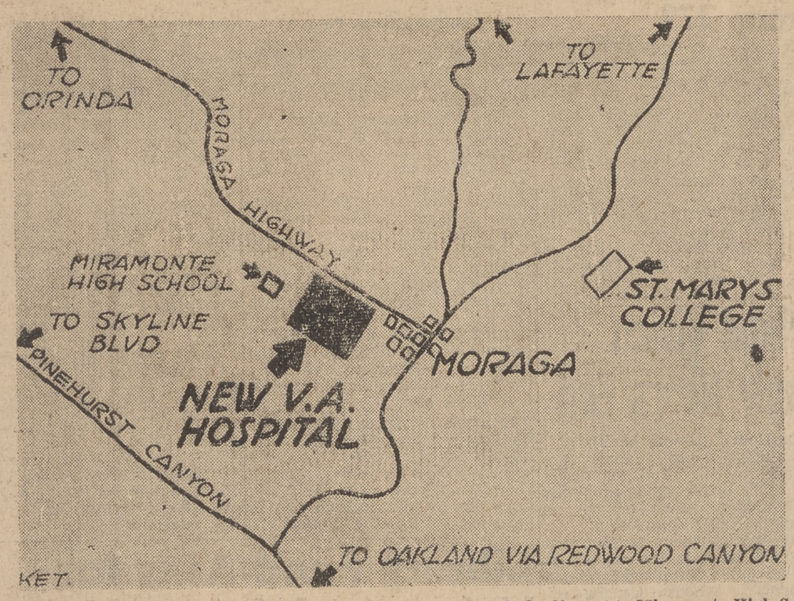
VA Hospital Site Stirs Protests



PROPOSED LOCATION of a Veterans Administration hospital adjacent to Miramonte High School in southern Orinda, as shown on this map, has aroused a storm of protest, with the result that a public meeting has been arranged for Monday night at Miramonte High School. VA officials will fly here from Washington, D.C., to be at the gathering. —Oakland Tribune map

Groups, Individuals Voice VA Hospital Site Protests

Tirades of voluble protests were unleashed this week by the announcement of the Veterans Administration that an eight story VA hospital would be built adjacent to the Miramonte High School in Orinda.

Prominent people of many quarters and factions on the Orinda scene have voiced and written their dissatisfaction with the hospital site, its proximity to the high school and its students, and generally the incongruity of placing such a structure in that location.

LAYMEN HAVE also joined in the VA debar. Floods of letters and telegrams as well as a deluge of telephone calls have been received by The Sun protesting the building.

Congressman John F. Baldwin, congressional representative of this area, has also been snowed under by correspondence from irate locals. It was Baldwin who, earlier this year, suggested a Contra Costa County site for the hospital to the VA.

Baldwin replied by telegram to his constitutents, as well as to The Sun, disclosing plans for a Monday night meeting between VA administrators and the Orinda public.

The points of protest have generally fallen into the following categories:

1. Orindans have indicated that the site is unacceptable to the area because of its proximity to Miramonte High School and its effects on both students and patients.

TRAFFIC DIFFICULTIES, it has been stated, resulting from the influx of hospital visitors, would endanger students coming to and from school.

Also, with the many high school activities (dances, athletic events, etc.) taking place at night, traffic congestion on Ivy Drive, where the school's parking lots are located, would be tremendous.

These activities, it was opined, would also inconvenience the hospital patients. The clamor and din of a school gathering would not be conducive to the restful atmosphere demanded by a hospital.

2. The building itself would not be consistent with the type of architecture and landscaping desired in the Orinda area.

The Miramonte High School, it has been pointed out, is one story high, in keeping with the suburban archotectural styles strived for. The large hospital would be completely disassociated with the other buildings of the community.

IN A LETTER to the County Board of Supervisors, the Orinda Association pointed out that, regarding a February 27 meeting of the association, ". . . the Board of Directors (of the association) at that time expressed great concern about the effect of such a hospital facility on the residential character of Orinda. . . ."

3. There are places further on in the Valley whose natural and affected settings would make them much more practical than the chosen location.

One point of mitigation on this question comes from the VA itself, whose standard policy regarding hospitals has been to place the structures at least 30 miles outside of a strategic area (Oakland, Berkeley) as an atomic attack precaution.

The VA felt, however, that the range of hills between Oakland and Contra Costa County would supply adequate protection.

NEIL PARSONS, superintendent of the Acalanes High School district, told The Sun that "there seem to be plenty of level areas in other places in the county."

Parsons said "In the first place, I don't think it's necessary to locate a Government hospital next door to Miramonte. We've had this site for five years. Why couldn't the hospital be located further down the Valley?

"It seems most undesirable," he continued, "to have a hospital and its stream of visitors immediately adjacent to the school. I don't think it's the best thing for the young people of the community."

Parsons expressed dissatisfaction with the idea of the eight story building.

"We tried to build the school in architectural conformity to the area," hestated.

Another intimately involved protestor was James A. Lewis, principal of the Miramonte High School.

"WE'RE NOT OVERJOYED," was his reaction. "The hospital is going to create problems for us and for them (the hospital)."

"Dances and sports events draw big crowds, and cars and noises are certainly not the best thing for a hospital."

Lewis went on to say that both he and Parsons would be at the meeting with the VA representative Monday night at the school. He believed that one of them would make an official statement of viewpoint at that time.

Perhaps most closely interested in the situation are the members of the Miramonte Parents Club, whose president, Don Dewitt, has been one of the most active of the hospital site's opponents.

DeWitt, in additoin to holding telephone conversations with Baldwin and Senator Kuchel, met with Sam H. Franks, manager of the Oakland VA hospital, last Tuesday, to express the club's disapproval.

Frank Keller, vice-president and manager of the Utah Construction Company which owns half of the proposed 20 acre site, said his firm would fight the plan as unrealistic.

GEORGE STANTON, past president of Ranchitos De Moraga, said he will ask the Association to oppose the hospital site. He declared that the site is "unfair to both the veterans and the local residents.

Capt. H. R. Parker, Moraga Community Club president, said most of the people he has contacted object to the hospital, but that he does not contemplate action by the club. He said the building is "not consistent with the type of architecture desired for the area."

"I think," she said, "as does everyone who has children, that additional traffic problem would be a hazard to children. Also, school noises are not what a hospital zone needs."

The Fact Finders, an Orinda organinzation, also submitted a disparaging voice against what they termed "this intrusion of a residential area."

Heart Attack Takes Life of Dr. Schaerer

Dr. August A. Schaerer, 52, of 14 Hermosa, passed away this week of a heart attack.

A native of Bern, Switzerland, Dr. Schaerer had lived in Orinda for the last six years.

He attended the University of Bern, where he obtained his doctoral degree in 1928.

At the time of his death, he was employed by Shell Development Company at the Emeryville (California) Research Laboratories. He has been employed by Shell since 1928. In 1930, he was in the Dutch East Indies. From 1932 until 1940 he served at Balik-Papan, Borneo.

In a month's time in the Far East in 1942, Dr. Schaerer had three close brushes with the invading Japanese. First, he flew out of Borneo a half day ahead of the invaders, leaving all his possessions behind. Second, he left Sumatra, where he had been directing the refining of lubricating oil, the same day the Japanese parachutists dropped from the skies. Then he pulled out of Java two days before the invasion but on the same day the attack began. After a trip that took him and Mrs. Schaerer around the world, he joined Shell Development Company in June, 1942.

Dr. Schaerer was an outstanding authority on petroleum waxes whose reputation was not limited to America.

In addition to the creative research he carried on, Dr. Schaerer was a promising artist, having only recently had a one-man show at the Art Guild of America Gallery in Carmel. This was no mere hobby with him but a talent which had the potential of placing him high in the world of art.

Dr. Schaerer is survived by his wife, Helene.

Glorietta Will Hear Candidates, Elect Officers

Annual potluck dinner of the Glorietta Improvement Association, to be highlighted by appearance of District 2 supervisorial candidates and election of association officers, will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the all-purpose room of Glorietta School.

All seven supervisorial candidates have been invited, according to Allen Winsor, association secretary. Each candidate will be given a specific period of time in which to state his program. There will be a question-and-answer period.

Outgoing president is Charles Nelson.

Lions Contribute $100 to Foreign Student Program

Some foreign exchange student will be aided in his trek to school in this area by the $100 donated for this cause by the Orinda Lions.

Announcement of the donation was made Wednesday evening at a Lions' board meeting, according to Publicity Chairman Stewart Wade.

The donation was made in response to a request for funds by the American Field Service, which is sponsoring the drive to bring foreign youth to the United States to study.

The student, unnamed as yet, will be of high school age and will attend one of the local schools.

The board also announced that the next Lions Club meeting will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 at Casa Orinda. The regular meeting place, the Willows, is closed for alterations.

Reports are that the "Bean Feed" May 9, attended by the Lions and local Boy and Cub Scouts at Miramonte High, was a tremendous success.

Some 300 boys enjoyed the cuisine and the entertainment, reports Wade.

The latter included music supplied by A. P. Lorentzen and Bob Keller, featuring Mario "Butch" Guarneri on the trumpet, a magic show, tumbling acts and archery competition.

Rawlings Simon was chairman of the affair, and was assisted by Roy Stuart, Tom Snow, Joe Smith, Don Hunter, James Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Navone, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Deichler.

Mesdames Lucas and Navone did the cooking.

Voters Electing School Board Trustees Today

Six candidates vie for two Orinda School District Board of Trustees positions as Orinda voters go to the polls today.

With neither incumbent having filed for re-election, two new members of the board will join Mrs. Catharine Schwarck, Nathan G. Gray, and Karl Schevill as trustees next year.

Voters choose from among Herbert A. Waterman, Louis B. Ambler Jr., Ernest Starkman, William Koch, Charles d'A Hunt and Carl Meurk to fill the slots.

Polls are open today from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Orinda and Glorietta Schools.

Rotary Is Shown Shangri-La Shots

Films, pictures and color slides of the rescue of three American service personnel were shown to members of the Orinda Rotary at the Orinda Country Club noon Wednesday.

Capt. Earl Walter, who led a search party into Dutch New Guinea, Valley of Shangri-La, explained the visual aids to the service group.

Capt. Walter was introduced by program chairman Joe Longacre.

Next meeting of the group will be a joint venture with the Danville Rotary Club at the Danville Hotel Wednesday. The Orinda Rotary will not meet May 30, Memorial Day. Next meeting of the Rotarians in Orinda will be at the Willows June 6, according to Clarence Betz.

Weather Memo: You're Correct!

Here's a memo to you from the Orinda weatherbird: If you've thought, these past few days, that summer is almost here — you've been right!

Just so you won't be too surprised by that startling intelligence, the weatherbird adds his report that only .04 of an inch of rain fell during the week ending Wednesday. That .04 of an inch fell last Friday, bringing the total rainfall since the July 1 start of the weather-year to 44.94 inches.

Daytime high-marks in temperature rose day by day, climbing to 93 Wednesday. Here are the high and low readings:

	High	Low
May 10	56	50
May 11	60	40
May 12	65	41
May 13	74	38
May 14	79	37

Orinda Little Leagues to Be Launched This Summer

There's something in the sharp crack of bat meeting ball and the swirling cloud of dust raised by a runner sliding home that makes a boy's heart pulsate just a little faster, and provides him with illusions of big-league grandeur.

Boys in Orinda are no exception, and they will be able to take that first step toward the Yanks and Dodgers this summer when the Orinda School District Little League gets under way.

According to Frank Isole, director of athletics for the school district, the groundwork is now being laid that will enable boys from the third grade through the eighth to participate in the national pastime in competition and with rules compatible with their age and ability.

Two of three meetings involving both school administrators and parents have already been held to formulate the baseball league, said Isole.

Plans now call for three separate leagues, apportioned by school grades but not divided into interschool competition.

"Teams will not be divided by schools," said Isole. "We will mix pupils from the various schools on each team."

The youngest league, consisting of children in the third and fourth grades, will use a rubber ball, rather than the standard horsehide.

"The use of a rubber ball develops the young player's skill," commented Isole, "as he doesn't have to be afraid of it, yet it teaches him the fundementals of the game."

The younger league will also implement a net behind the batter, rather than a catcher or umpire. Balls and strikes will be decided by whether or not the pitcher's ball hits the net. The catcher will stand behind the net, and, according to Isole, will develop coordination by watching the ball, and will lose fear of the batter's swing.

A second league will utilize players from the fifth and sixth grades. The rules for this division will be normal for little league play except that a 10" hard rubber ball will be used.

Boys from the seventh and eighth grades will play in the third league, and will follow little league play, using the regulation hardball.

Games will be played twice weekly, at 7 p.m. Wednesdays and on Saturday mornings.

Intersport cooperation will be displayed next Friday at 8 p.m. at Miramonte High School when football players of the San Francisco 49'ers take on the Orinda All-stars in a basketball game. Proceeds will go toward financing the Little Leagues in Orinda.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Frank Isole, CL 4-4364.

VA Hospital Should Not Be in This Area

The Sun joins the community in opposing the proposed site for a Veterans Administration hospital adjacent to Miramonte High School in Orinda-Moraga.

Aside from all other factors, we cannot understand how Val Peterson, head of the nationwide civil defense program, can permit a veterans' hospital within eight or nine miles of one of the nation's most strategic atom-or-hydrogen bomb targets.

His office, we understand, has a definite policy that a Veterans Administration hospital must be 30 to 40 miles from such a target area.

We have been told that Central Contra Costa County would be in the path of A-bomb or H-bomb heat and fallout if a bomb were exploded in the East Bay.

As communities and as individuals we have been told by civil defense authorities to keep enough gasoline in our cars and to have on hand a mobile supply of canned foods and liquids, and blankets, so that we can evacuate at a minute's notice.

We have been informed by civil defense authorities that the range of hills between the East Bay and our community will not protect us — and yet the civil defense authorities and the Veterans Administration propose to place a hospital directly in the potential path of danger!

The hospital would have to be evacuated in event of an emergency.

We simply cannot understand the proposal to build the hospital at this site. If for no other reasons than those just cited, we believe the Veterans Administration hospital should not be located in this immediate area.

There are other reasons, however.

A veterans' hospital directly next to a high school is certainly not the best idea. An eight-story hospital in a residential community, which is in an area fairly well-established, is questionable.

Transportation to and from the hospital would be difficult.

There are probably a dozen other reasons that could be listed.

It is apparent that the people and most groups in the community are opposed to the proposal. We have not yet heard of anyone here who is in favor of it.

There are other communities, however, which have indicated that they have the land and other conditions favorable for the placement and operation of such a hospital. They would welcome a Veterans Administration hospital.

Veterans' hospitals are certainly most worth-while and necessary. Our many residents who are veterans, as well as those who are non-veterans, would be among the first to demand good care and excellent facilities for sick veterans.

A spot for such a hospital out of danger from bombs, with good transportation and with good available housing for the hospital staff and dependents, would surely be a better place for it than the Orinda-Moraga area.

What can you do about the situation — as an individual or organization?

Attend the public meeting Monday night at Miramonte High School.

Write or wire Colonel R. M. Edgar, assistant administrator for construction for the Veterans Administration, Washington, D.C.

Write or wire Congresman John Baldwin, House Office Building, Washington, D.C., and Senators Thomas Kuchel and William Knowland, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

We respectfully recommend that the Veterans Administration and the Federal Civil Defense Administration immediately reconsider this decision to place a Veterans Administration hospital here.

You Can Hear Candidates At Public Meet May 28

You'll have the opportunity to hear and to question candidates at the Candidates' Night public meeting at Acalanes High School auditorium 8 p.m. May 28, which will be jointly sponsored by The Sun and Lafayette-Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Candidates for the Assembly, the State Senate and District 2 supervisor will present their programs and will answer queries.

Moderator will be Kendric Morrish of Orinda, noted civic leader and experienced "emcee" at at similar gatherings in the past.

Details of the program have been announced by Frank H. Frazer, chairman of the JayCees' get-out-the-vote committee.

Candidates who are scheduled to appear are incumbent Donald Doyle (R) and Russell Koch (D), for assemblyman from the 10th Assembly District; incumbent George Miller Jr. (D) and Jack Pedder (R), for state senator from the 17th Senatorial District, and the seven candidates for the non-partisan post of county supervisor from the Second Supervisorial District:

David Comstock, Eunice Koller, Ed Larmer, Harold Mutnick, Mel Nielsen, C. R. Wallace and William Zion.

The candidates for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District---incumbent John Baldwin (R) and Dr. H. R. Quinney (D) -----were also invited but will be unable to be present, according to Ed Firby, publicity chairman of the Lafayette-Orinda JayCees. Congressman Baldwin will be in Washington, D. C., while Dr. Quinney has another commitment.

In order to assure fairness, time-limit schedules will be observed as follows:

Assembly candidates--five minutes for each one's presentation, then a five-minute question-and-answer period involving both candidates.

State Senate candidates---five minutes for each candidate's presentation, followed by a five-minutes question-and-answer period for queries to both.

Supervisorial candidates----eight minutes for presentation by each of the seven candidates; then a 15-minute over-all question-and-answer period.

"Coming only eight days before the June 5 primary elections, the May 28 Candidates' Night will offer a real opportunity to voters," Frazer commented.

There will be no admission charge.

Public Meeting Will Be Held at Miramonte Monday

Following a deluge of opposition to the proposed site for a Veterans Administration hospital adjacent to Miramonte High School in southern Orinda, a public meeting has been arranged for 8 o'clock Monday night at the Miramonte High School auditorium.

At Congressman John F. Baldwin's request, Colonel R. M. Edgar, assistant administrator for construction for the Veterans Administration, and Norman Lodge, director of information for VA, will fly here from Washington, D.C., to attend the meeting.

"They will be joined at the meeting by Dr. C. H. Francis, area medical director of the Veterans Administration," Congressman Baldwin informed The Sun in a telegram received Wednesday.

ROBERT THAMAN, acting chairman of the hastily formed Committee Against the Veterans Administration Hospital in Orinda, said he expects 1000 people to attend the meeting.

The meeting was arranged by Baldwin after a storm of protests followed the Veterans Administration announcement last week that the 20-acre site on Moraga Highway, directly across Ivy Drive from Miramonte High School, had been selected.

Thaman appeared before the Orinda Association board Monday night at Orinda School, as did Board of Supervisors Chairman H. L. Cummings and Frank Keller, vice-president of Utah Construction Company, owner of the site.

All expressed opposition to the proposed site.

THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION board adopted a resolution urging the Board of Supervisors "to take all positive action in opposing the construction of a Veterans Administration hospital in the Orinda-Moraga area, including communications to congressional representatives."

This course was followed by the supervisors at their meeting Tuesday.

On motion of Supervisor Warren G. Buchanan, seconded by Supervisor Jacob Frederickson, the county board declared it "vigorously opposes the proposed site acquisition and the construction of a veterans' hospital in the Orinda-Moraga area."

Although next Monday night's meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock, Thaman urged people to come at 7:30, so as to have an opportunity to inspect the proposed site.

THE CIVIC AFFAIRS Committee of the Orinda Association, after the news about the VA hospital site "broke" last week, had planned to hold an open meeting on the subject on its regularly scheduled meeting night next Monday, but because of the meeting arranged for Miramonte, the Civic Affairs meeting has been canceled so as to permit attendance at Miramonte.

The Board of Supervisors resolution of Tuesday was sent to Congressman Baldwin and George P. Miller and to Senators Thomas Kuchel and William Knowland.

"There are plenty of better sites in the county for the hospital, and I believe the people have the right to protest," Cummings stated at the supervisors' meeting.

At Monday night's Orinda Association board session he declared, "I regard it as a blight not only to the community but also to the entire county."

JOINING IN the protest were the Fact Finders, Orinda group which has opposed the Orinda Association in the controversy over administrative office district rezoning of the Pine Grove.

Leo Alexander, chairman of the Fact Finders, said that a hospital at the proposed site would "open the door to indiscriminate multiple-dwelling, hotel and apartment type structures to accommodate hospital visitors and staff."

He added that the hospital "would cause valuable land to become tax-exempt, thus decreasing the tax base," and he suggested location of the hospital at Camp Stoneman.

THE ORINDA ASSOCIATION resolution recalled that the association board on February 27 had "expressed great concern" over possibility of a VA hospital in the area and that, following its February 27 session, the board had asked Baldwin for information.

Alexander stated the hospital would increase traffic hazards and congestion, and would "destroy the residential character of the entire neighborhood."

IN A TELEPHONE interview with The Sun on Monday, Congressman Baldwin, in Washington, said he had received many phone calls and telegrams from the Orinda area in protest to the proposed VA hospital site.

He said he had arranged with the VA for a public meeting to be held next Monday night, and that he had wired Thaman (who had phoned him the night of May 10), asking him to find a suitable meeting-place.

(In his subsequent telegram to The Sun, Baldwin reported that Miramonte High School had been chosen for the meeting-place, and he reported he had received "numerous communications" from Orinda area residents "questioning the specific site" which had been announced.)

REGARDING CONDEMNATION proceedings, which had already been filed in Federal Court in San Francisco, Baldwin on Monday said, "This doesn't, in my opinion, indicate the 'point of no return.' So this meeting is being arranged for next Monday night."

"I was told by Colonel Edgar," Baldwin continued, "that the Civil Defense Administration has relaxed its previous requirement

Acalanes School Tax May Climb to $1.60 Next Year

The tax rate for the Acalanes High School District is expected to increase from the present $1.26 to approximately $1.60 per $100 assessed valuation next year, trustees announced Monday.

The increase will be due to increased enrollment of 23 per cent, while the increase in assessed valuation will be only nine per cent, they said.

Disclosure of the tax increase followed a study of the tentative proposed budget. If enacted, the increase will put the district within 15 cents of its allowed $1.75 maximum.

INCLUDED WITH THE 23 per cent rise in population and the offset of only nine per cent increased valuation as factors contributing to the tax rise, were the reduction in state aid as a result of the 35 per cent increase on assesed valuation, and a 10 per cent rise in the rate due to general raises granted personnel.

District officials stated that the reduction of state aid through the increased 35 per cent assessment would amount to approximately 14 cents of the projected tax raise.

Trustees will continue to study the budget until a public budget hearing slated for the first week of August, after which the final budget will be adopted.

Faced with a low bid of providing auditorium facilities and enlarging Las Lomas gym $70,000 in excess of architect's estimates, trustees postponed decision on the matter pending further study. Low bid of $230,000 was made by Indenco Inc. of Oakland.

The improved gym-auditorium which would have seated 1400 was originally scheduled for completion this November.

TRUSTEES EXPRESSED concern over the Federal Government's announced intention to build an eight story veteran's hospital across from the new Orinda, Miramonte High School and directed district superintendent Neil M. Parsons to investigate the project and report back to the board.

Equipment bids at $5376 for chemistry tables for an additional chemistry lab at Acalanes to be made from a refurnished classroom; bids at $2684 for portable, 470 seating capacity bleachers at Miramonte, and bids for 45 typewriters primarily for Miramonte with some machines to serve as replacements at existing schools, were accepted.

TRUSTEES ALSO approved a call for bids to be opened June 7 for a multilith machine; physical education equipment; shop equipment for shop classes at Acalanes and Las Lomas; and library furniture, musical instruments and microscopes for Miramonte.

Dr. Ralph Hall was elected to award diplomas at Acalanes commencement exercises, while Howard Stanley was named to perform the honors at Las Lomas. Both commencement programs will be held Sunday, June 17, Acalanes at 2 p.m. and Las Lomas at 4 p.m.

Las Lomas English teacher Donald Fraser was granted a year's leave of absence to teach at an Armed Forces Dependents School in Japan.

Moraga Candidates Speak

Moraga Board Candidates Tell Backgrounds, Aims

When Moraga voters go to the polls today to elect a new member of their three-member Moraga School Board the question of who is best qualified for the task of insuring adequate education for their children will be present in each of their minds.

So that the voters may become better acquainted with the candidates, The Sun asked each candidate for a statement.

Following are the statements.

Edward J. Bisiar

According to the General Plan for the Moraga Valley we shall eventually require 18 schools. In order to accomplish these tasks of development I believe we should take the following steps of my suggested school plan for the Moraga Valley

(1) Financial

(a) Vote "yes" on Propositions I and II.

(b) Study the feasibility of assessing each new home and, if necessary, all older homes for the purpose of delaying immediate expenses in the development of each new school site. This has been accomplished in other areas with good results.

(2) Sites and plants

We already gained some protection, order, and knowledge for the community through the development of the General Plan.

(a) Sites

Eighteen 10 acre sites for primary grade schools with a 5 acre community recreation area adjacent to each school site. These sites should be definitely located prior to the acceptance by the County Planing Commission of any tract development plan.

These sites should be centrally located, if possible, in order to eliminate the use of motor transport of children, to promote better centralized community spirit, and also to allow better protection and supervision of our children.

These sites should be acquired and developed as the needs of each area dictate.

(b) Plant

The school plants should be developed on a permanent basis (cheaper in the long run).

Classrooms should be planned on the basis of an ideal of about 25 students per room and with the completed plant to eventually accommodate the children of a maximum of 600 families.

These school plants should be planned to expand as the needs dictate. This will ease the initial burden.

I was a naval aviator during World War II and was graduated from St. Mary's College in 1953. I am also a former deputy probation officer and educator.

I have been a leader in the development of the General Plan for the Moraga Valley, with the wholehearted cooperation of county and university planning experts.

Alfred Ferreira

I am a native of Moraga. My parents have been ranchers here since 1906.

As a local property owner in Moraga and with a son in attendance in the school, I feel that I have a good knowledge of the needs of the District.

I'm in favor of maintaining the basic start being initiated by the present School Board in conjunction with the survey of the Stanford Committee, and following through with their recommendations to meet the immediate problems facing the growth of the Moraga school.

Due to my close association with the problems of the Moraga District and personal knowledge of the recent survey, I feel I can cope with the developments that will ensue and work with and provide the necessary assistance to the associate board members and the executive heads of the educational departments.

I am a graduate of the Moraga School. After serving in the Quartermaster Corps in both the European and Asiatic theater of operations in World War II, I have operated my own grading and excavating business.

Due to my own personal interest in the Moraga school and since my business activities are such that they will allow me to devote adequate time to execute the duties of a school board trustee, I will be able to fill the position to the best interests of the District.

F. B. Glasky

I am 35 years old, live at 280 Rheem Boulevard, Moraga, and am a candidate for the Moraga School District Board of Trustees.

I have been an acountant for the Texas Company at the Marine Terminal in Richmond for the past 17 years, except for the four years I spent in the Army, with 15 months duty overseas in Europe.

As a father of three children I believe that a sound elementary education is necessary for future high school and college courses.

My wife Sarah and children Karen, 13, Buzz, 8, and Kevin, 3½, join me in my interest in the community and willingness to volunteer my services.

F. R. Devin

Our home and business interests are very closely allied with the orderly growth and development of this area. Needless to say, school growth and facilities are of the utmost importance in a growing community.

MY EXPERIENCE in the Orinda community from 1941 to 1948 I'm sure will be a benefit in corresponding problems which are now facing Moraga.

Our three children have attended the Moraga school and have greatly benefitted from the individual attention received. Personal attention is needed for every individual child and is the aim of modern education but can only be realized if facilities can keep pace with the demand.

Time to be cognizant of these problems is now—the sooner the foundations can be laid, the more orderly the expansion.

MY ASSOCIATION with the real estate development and construction of the area keeps me in touch with the rate of growth and population increase and can help in the securing of suitable school sites to meet these needs.

I pledge my diligence, interest and experience to do the best job I can to serve the community.

Community

Rev. Walter Giersbach, secretary, Missions Council of the Congregational Christian Churches in New York, formerly president of Pacific University, will be the guest speaker in the pulpit of the Orinda Community Church for the two services on Sunday morning.

His subject will be "Building a New World."

Church school at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Youth groups at 4 and 6:45 p.m. The Church Council will have its monthly meeting in the Livingston Room on Wednesday.

Shipmates, the young couples' club, will enjoy a progressive dinner, three different groups going to various homes and all assembling later in Fellowship Hall for dessert and their program of games and song.

Clipper Club will be entertanied in the home of Tom and Lucille Fahay, 12 Overhill Drive. Mr. Robert O. Wieckman will speak on "Making your Own Gems." Music will also be a feature of the program.

School Vision Study Nears End

Dr. Henrik Blum, health officer, Contra Costa County, announced recently that the three-year study of the vision problems of elementary school children is rapidly nearing completion.

The special vision testing that has been done in the schools is now complete for all the Orinda elementary schools. Careful examinations of certain children are still being completed by the School of Optometry, University of California, and the Stanford University School of Medicine.

Reports to parents of these results will be made as soon as the studies have been completed.

"We will know more than ever before about the kind of vision problems found among school children; we will know how these problems change as the children develop, and we will be better prepared to find these problems for early referral for private care when it is necessary," said Dr. Blum.

The Orinda Vision Study was started in 1954 under the sponsorship of the Contra Costa County Health Department, Contra Costa County superintendent of schools, the University of California School of Optometry, Stanford University School of Medicine and the superintendent of the Orinda School District.

"The enthusiastic help we have received from the parents and teachers has made the study possible and much credit should be given to them for the success we have had," stated Dr. Blum.

Miramonte Club Seats Officers, Discusses VA

Entertainment and discussion added spice to the meeting last Monday of the Miramonte Parents Club at the school, at which officers for the coming school year were installed.

Don DeWitt, outgoing president, presided over the meeting at which the singing of the Baguettes trio and games of acquaintance provided some of the entertainment.

Mrs. Jack Walling was installed as president, and is slated to take over the club's reins in July. On her board will be Louis Ambler, vice president; Mrs. Gerald Tesman, secretary; J. E. Almond, treasurer; and Mrs. J. V. Clark, corresponding secretary.

Discussion on the VA hospital, which is to be built adjacent to the school, was also held.

Coffee, poured by Mrs. F. A. Croci, and cake were served after the meeting.

Miramonte Students Attend 2 Assemblies

Miramonte High School students last week attended two assemblies.

The first, held May 10, featured a program by the Acalanes modern dance group and music department. Performers from Acalanes gave the Miramontans sample excerpts from the Acalanes production of "The Musance," which was presented before the general public last Friday night.

The second assembly, held last Friday at Miramonte, highlighted an exhibit of tumbling and trampoline technique by physical education students at the University of California, under the direction of Don Jones of UC.

of a minimum of about 40 miles from abomb-target area for a veterans' hospital, where there are hills."

The congressman added: "...feel that the point of view of the residents of the area involved should be heard by the Veterans Administration."

In his telegram to The Sun this week, Baldwin said that as a result of the many protests, he had "contacted the Veterans Administration and insisted upon their holding a public hearing upon the specific site which they have proposed."

ORINDA'S RESIDENTIAL character was stressed by the Orinda Association, as well as by the Fact Finders, in the opposition to the site.

In a press release following its Monday night meeting, the association board described its opposition to the VA plans as "in complete accord with the basic principles of the organization in opposing any type of outside enterprise which will break down the fine residential character of the area and will not serve the direct needs of the local residents."

"Furthermore," the asosciation statement continued, "the association has stood and continues to stand against any such developments next to our schools."

E. W. LITTLEFIELD, executive vice-president of Utah Construction Company, said yesterday that the Utah Company "will fight" the condemnation proceedings filed by VA.

"They selected this site without consulting us," he stated. "We don't think a hospital at that site is god for the community or for us."

ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT ocurred this week in the renewed suggestion by A. L. Day, Concord realtor and former Concord city councilman, that the VA hospital be located at Concord.

Day said that a good site would be about 25 acres of the 54-acre Bisso Ranch at the intersection of Arnold Industrial Highway and Highway 24.

Library Fund Asks for Volunteer Women Helpers

"Volunteer Orinda women are needed now for two very important functions directly connected with the fast-approaching Library Fund Campaign," reports William M. Fleager, chairman of the Headuarters Administration of the building fund.

"Since women of Orinda are very strong advocates of an adequate and functional library, here is their opportunity to serve and help to make it possible," continues Fleager.

"First, we need at least 150 more volunteers to register now for house-to-house solicitation a few weeks hence. The Orinda Library Building Fund will be helped materially if offers of services are made now.

"Mrs. Donald (Verla) P. Krotz is chairman, field group. Her chief lieutenants are Mrs. Ed (Elaine) Wilford and Mrs. John (Betty) Madison, co-chairmen, field personnel. Call any of the above, or Mrs. C. V. Scarich at CL 4-4433 or 4-4477," he asks.

"Secondly, we need additional competent stenographic and secretarial help and we need it now. We know there are a number of ex-secretaries living in Orinda. More volunteers are needed. Please call Marge Scarich soon as possible," concludes Fleager.

Rotary to Hold Field Day for Kids Tomorrow

Sack races, potato races, baseball throwing and all the other fanfare and contests that make for an old-fashioned picnic will highlight the 6th annual Rotary Field Day tomorrow at the Orinda Union School.

Competitions and sneak snacks at the hot dog stand are expected to get under way at 10 a.m. in the gala outdoor doings.

Orinda Rotary is sponsoring the festivities, which are being held for pupils from the fourth through the eight grades. The Rotary is expecting about 500 children, parents, guests and friends to attend.

Also participating in the affair is the Orinda Mother's Club, which is handling hot dog sale and distribution.

Awards and medals will be issued the winners of the various contests. Individual victors of each competition will receive a ribbon and medal, while the boy and girl scoring the most points in the events will receive special awards.

In addition, a trophy will be awarded the school whose competitors score the most points.

Chamber Meet Will Be May 29

Temporary closing of the regular meeting place of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce has postponed the meeting until May 29.

Scheduled originally for next Tuesday, the meeting was called off because the Willows is closed for redecorations, announced secretary Clarence Betz. The Willows is slated to open soon.

Highlight of the next meeting will be the installation of officers for the coming year.

MARY WAY of Martinez, a member of the Diablo Art Association, posted several of her works in a downtown Walnut Creek Show. Similar pictures finished and in the making, may be seen in windows and on street corners through Sunday.

COOPERATION between mechants of Walnut Creek and artists of Central Contra Costa County bring to Walnut Creek this week the Diablo Spring Art Show. A painting by Don Yuen is admired by Roger Leidy, left, president of the Merchants Association, and Mickey Reilly, vice-president. The show continues through Sunday, with a full schedule of events.

Diablo Artists 'Painting the Town'

Diablo artists are painting the town.

They converged upon Walnut Creek this week to make the first annual Diablo Spring Art Show memorable for residents through the central county area.

Committee members have reported that they had difficulty finding locations for last minute entries by artists who wanted to display their works in a merchants' window.

The program began Tuesday with window displays, and will end Sunday with several special events.

A HIGHLIGHT will be an Artists and Models Costume Ball, to be held tomorrow night at 9 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Recreation Hall, by Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Music will be by the Debonaires, and refreshments will be available. Admission is $1 per person.

Here is the advice of comitteemen and women who have been working on the Art Show:

"After you buy your map with the free directory and program, start out with the family on a promenade of the town.

"If you start at the corner of Locust and Mt. Diablo Streets, you will see a group display of Jade Fon's adult education classes, on down the street the windows on both sides of the street will exhibit for you arts and crafts from many artists.

"The Contra Costa Camera Club and the Contra Costa Gem and Mineral Society have their exhibits on this street. Several artists will show you different art techniques.

"DON'T MISS the side streets — down Bonanza you'll see a bromoil demonstration and somewhere on Cypress, they tell me, a certain realtor's artist wife has chucked out the for sale signs and is putting up a real gone show.

"Speaking of realtor's, what's with Bill Hayward's? The Mt. Diablo prize paintings were supposed to be here.

"Looks like he sort of got carried away with fire insurance gags. — anyway, there's art in action under the marquee.

"You'll find the Mt. Diablo winners at 1425 N. Main. On Main Street you'll see Maggie Miller, Walnut Creek, silk-screening, then there are potters, weavers, painters and at the far end of the street Warren Weldon, Concord, will be glass blowing. Beyond this point, at two different automobile dealers you'll find Art Watson's and Don Malone's adult education classes' exhibit.

"Now that you are way down here go on over to the Recreation Center and see what Mrs. Ruth Wallis, director of the center has been up to.

"She and Mrs. Mary McNally, Pleasant Hill, can really be proud of the art the small fry have turned in, — all in the theme, 'When I Grow Up.

"And if you can convince the doorkeeper on Saturday at 2 p.m. that you're "only three and a half years old," you'll see the swellest performance of girl scouts doing the Hawaiian Stick Dance. (All for free.)

"OF COURSE YOU gals are wearing flats, I hope? but if your feet are killing you take time out at one of the (surprise!) sidewalk cafes. Go in, get yourself served and take it out to the table outside. (You can't afford to miss a thing.)

"As you walk down toward Broadway you'll pass a spot where flower arranging is being done by John Laurence and he'll tell you anything you want to know about that lovely art.

"Do you know what's at the Pelican Fountain in the Broadway?

"No other than the California College of Arts and Crafts. Here you can expect most anything. Dig those crazy mobiles! If you have a budding artist in the family or would like to further your own art education, you can pick up all the information you'll need about this famous school that has been training artists for half a century.

"On Broadway, from the top of the hill to the creek, on both sides of the street windows will display art and paintings will also hang on panels on the sidewalk.

"Six portrait artists will be ready to paint you a portrait on the spot. Oil painting, water color, gouache, and pastel techniques will be demonstrated.

"Hand crafted silver art objects will be exhibited and the techniques of which will be demonstrated by Donald Yuen, Hilo, Hawaii, now resident of Alamo and student of Mr. Bob Winston at the California College of Arts and Crafts.

"THE CONTRA Costa Junior College, under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Middleton will have a display of class room studies in a window at the end of the street where two well known nurseries have lent their talents in garden displays. The east side of Broadway South displays art and tables are outside for your service.

"Keep right on going there's more yet!

"Down at the new arcade on Newell the Adobe Art Center has a display in the patio in the rear and children will make tile mosaics for you Saturday afternoon

"There are other places on So. Main to see on both sides of the street. The Acalanes High School has a large exhibit, down here and shows the capable direction of Miss Barbara Johnson, Pleasant Hill.

"The Sayer School of Wood Carving, Walnut Creek, has an exhibit well worth your while, set up with a garden display at Main and Botelho Streets across from the Diablo Art Ass'n Work shop.

"The street show isn't all. There will be an Artists's and Models Costume Ball with music by the Debonaires at the Recreation Hall, Saturday, May 19th, 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

"ON SUNDAY there will be folk dancing by the Diablo Council of Square Dance and Folk Dance Clubs, on the lawn at the City Park. The festivities will start at 2 p.m. and will continue until 5 p.m. At 3 p.m. the awards will be made to the three winners of the Realty Board's contest for the best painting of Mt. Diablo.

"Displays are the work from students of such well known teachers as Jade Fon, instructor at San Ramon and Contra Costa Junior College Adult Education classes; Don Malone, Acalanes Evening High School; Art Watson, Alhambra Evening High School; Mr. Leonard Bardsley, instructor of painting at Pittsburg Evening High School; Mrs. La Verne Greenwood, ceramic teacher, Pittsburg Evening High School; Mrs. Susanna Olson, Mt. Diablo Evening High School.

High schools participating in the pageant are, Acalanes High, Lafayette; Antioch High, Antioch; Pittsburg High, Pittsburg; St. aMry's College, Moraga, will be representted as well as California College of Arts and Crafts and the work of Mrs. Harriet Middleton's students at Contra Costa Junior College.

"MRS. DORIS Lester and Mrs. Mildred Carlock, Danville, are presenting the work of the men at Parks Air Force Base, and the Wood Carving School, Walnut Creek, taught and owned by Mr. Charles Sayer, well known artist, has many interesting objects to display.

"The Walnut Creek Recreation Center: The Valley Art Center, Lafayette; Students of Glorya, Pleasant Hill; Susanna Olson's Studio, Concord; Juvenile Hall, Martinez, Diablo Weavers, Walnut Creek; Diablo Art Ass'n, Walnut Creek; Contra Costa Camera Club; and the Contra Costa Gem and Mineral Society are some of exhibits.

"Artists have been drawn to Diablo for many years, so it is not surprising that so many young people having interrupted art careers with raising families are returning to creative expression now that the young'uns are in school.

"Those interrupted by the more pressing occupation of war have, so to speak, beaten their weapons into pallettes and brushes, potters wheels and looms and are tilling the medium most suitable to their tools.

"These hard-working artists are drawn from many occupations. Emily and Dan Dascallos, who have a frame shop in Concord and are raising two children, find time to do water colors and portraits.

"Katie Hassler, who runs the Las Lomas High School cafeteria and takes care of her home and family, has gained a reputation for her oil paintings.

"Mary Rasmussen and Connie Helm, both of Danville are two young ladies to watch.

"Both have families, homes and gardens to tend, but now that the last of the brood are entering the halls of learning, they turn seriously to painting.

"Mary has had some excellent shows of water colors, and Connie is beginning to be noticed for her oil landscapes and seascapes.

"CONTRA COSTA County, near the Golden Gate offers many advantages to the aspiring artist.

"Besides the admirable topography, there are many schools, colleges, and work shops at their disposal.

"The East Contra Costa Junior College offers two classes taught by the well-known East Bay artist, Jade Fon, one in design and one in life drawing.

"St. Mary's College has long been known for its excellent art department, and there are classes in arts and crafts taught in the adult education programs of all the high schools.

"In addition to Mr. Fon, there are many fine instructors to be found in the area.

"Three workshops provide facilities and lessons to the amateur artist.

"The Valley Art Center in Lafayette offers many classes at the old City Hall."

Rural Areas Recommended For First Transit Stage

The Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission went on record this week as advocating that serious consideration be given to extending Bay Area rapid transit under the "optimum" plan to rural areas during the first stages of construction.

This recommendation was adopted along with suggestions that the "optimum" plan, including subway systems in Oakland and San Francisco and a trans-bay tube, be constructed rather than the "minimum" plan.

The resolution was the first action taken by the commission of the "Regional Rapid Transit" report since its publication early in January.

THE APPROVED PLAN would free both decks of the bridge for vehicular traffic, serving the dual purpose of providing high speed transit facilities and relieving congestion on the bridge.

This would mean that commuters from Central Contra Costa, would be able to make direct and speedy connection with San Francisco and bay points.

According to the Parsons report, the "optimum plan" would cost $130,500,000 more than the alternative proposal. However, John C. Beckett, chairman of the commission's engineering committee, explained that the cost has been cut to only $26,818,000 more.

The engineering committee included in its reasons for recommending adoption of the "optimum plan:"

1. IT WOULD CUT rapid transit travel time between Oakland and San Francisco in half—from 22 minutes to 11 minutes.

2. Elevated stations and lines would not be required in the crowded urban areas.

3. Passengers coming to Oakland would leave the subway at two underground stations on Broadway. Under the other plan they would have to get off on the west side of Jefferson St.

4. Passengers arriving in San Francisco would leave the subways at the most convenient points — California and Kearny Streets, Market at Powell Streets and Civic Center.

IN RECOMMENDING that rural areas could possibly be included in the first stage of rapid transit construction ,the engineering committee offered this explanation:

That the Bay Area is expanding at a faster rate than envisioned in the original surveys.

In the Parsons report, the first stage rapid transit program would link San Francisco and Oakland with lines etxending to Richmond, Concord and Decoto.

In the West Bay, the first stage program included a line from St. Vincent's north of San Rafael, through San Francisco to a terminal south of Palo Alto.

The second-stage program would include extension of the Marin Line north to Novato, and a loop from south of Palo Alto through San Jose and up the east side of the Bay to the first stage terminus at Decoto.

Art Show Will Begin Thursday At Art Center

The Cooperative Art Association, an organization sponsoring classes in Walnut Creek and Lafayette to supplement the art program in the schools for children showing ability or interest, is planning the show.

Tax Study Group Scores Area Special Districts

The Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association today released a study revealing that Contra Costa County had the fifth highest expenditure for special district services in California.

This county, with tax and assessment receipts last year of $16,140,090, was topped by Kern County $19,031,242, San Diego County $18,291,765, Alameda County $28,277,034, and Los Angeles County with an expenditure of $162,974,080.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY however ran second in the number of special districts with a total of 102 special purpose districts, being surpassed only by Los Angeles County with 173.

According to the association, there are a wide variety of districts organized by the Legislature to meet the needs of a metropolitan area, i.e. flood control districts, E.B.M.U.D. etc., where the Legislature fixes boundaries and organizes the district. There are two categories of special districts, other than improvement and school districts, organized under general laws to provide governmental services to the people in unincorporated areas of counties:

1. THOSE WHOSE AFFAIRS are under the control of the board of supervisors as ex-officio governing board of the district.

2. Those whose affairs are under the supervision and control of their own governing board. Of these two types of districts, those responsible to the board of supervisors spend the most tax funds.

The most expensive function which special districts carried on in Contra Costa County was for health and sanitation purposes, with fire districts running a close second.

The magnitude of special district expenditures, most of which are legally controlled by the board of supervisors, warrants careful study and closer supervision by the board of supervisors, the tax group concluded.

Rapid Transit is Realtors' Topic

State Senator Arthur H. Breed will speak at a breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, Monday morning at 7:30 at the El Nido, it was announced.

He will review "Essential Elements in Bay Area Rapid Transit."

The fourth and final lecture on real estate valuation will be held Tuesday at the Contra Costa Junior College. Speaker will be Zura Bells, member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. Time is 7 p.m.

Klad-Ezee Will Show Special New Fashions

A private showing of sub-teen fashions will be held at the newest addition to the Klad-Ezee Children's Shop, their new Pony Tail Shop for Sub-teens Monday from 8 to 9 p.m.

Modeling graduation dresses, casual summer cottons, skirts and blouses, swimwear and playwear will be Pat Jones and Kay Moore, of Pleasant Hill Intermediary School, Jan Miller and Lynne Harsha of the Pine Grove School, Orinda; Harriet James and Robin Mattheissen of the Parkmead School, Walnut Creek; Karen Salonen of the New Walnut Creek School, Walnut Creek; Marilyn Conner and Alan Hartman, of the Danville School, Danville; Sandra Vedovelli and Rita O'Bryan, of the Glenbrook Intermediary School, Concord.

Recognizing a real need for a place where the 6th through 8th grade girls may get the kind of wearing apparel the girls want and at the same time please the mothers, Lew and Evelyn Rapport, have turned their entire mezzannine floor in the Pony Tail Shop.

They are catering only to the sub-teen sizes and are carrying smart, well styled merchandise, priced well within reason.

All girls and their families are invited to the fashion show.

Home & Garden

Nutrients Given By Fertilizers

An organized, closely followed fertilizing program is beneficial to every garden, for few garden soils can furnish a continuous supply of the necessary plant nutrients.

Most soils yield the three major soil elements — nitrogen, phosphorous acid and potash — very slowly, but commercially prepared fertilizers supply them pronto.

There are all types of fertilizers, naturally and chemically produced, and each serves a special purpose in an over all garden fertilizing program.

Complete chemical fertilizers provide all three major elements and you can obtain these elements singly in special formulations if desired.

Organic fertilizers will furnish all three elements, as does animal manure, its quality depending on the animals' diet and how it was gathered and stored. Compost of the whole plant parts as well as that of leaves is used to supply organic matter and to lighten the soil.

Leaf mold, although not high in soil nutrients, is much used in a garden fertilizing program.

To be sure you have the best fertilizing program for your garden and grounds, check with your local nurseryman.

Here's Advice on Depth of Your Pool

A depth of 7 feet or even 6 feet is ample for swimming where no diving board is to be installed and is safe for shallow dives from the margin of the pool.

It is even possible to use an 8 or 10 foot diving plank placed close to the pool deck for entering a pool with a depth of 7 feet.

With a residential 10 foot springboard placed 18 inches above the water, an 8 foot depth is satisfactory, while the regulation one-meter board calls for a depth of 8 feet 6 inches.

If a diving tower is to be installed with the tip of the board 3 meters above the water, a depth of 10 feet should be provided at least 15 feet from the deep end wall, and the 5 foot break should occur 35 feet from the deep end wall.

An installation of this type will provide regulation facilities for expert diving.

The shallow end of the pool should have a minimum depth of 3' or 3'6" and slope evently to the 5' break.

Here Are Some Spraying Hints

Some practical pointers to remember about spraying include:

1. Spray thoroughly — up, down and sideways, so that every leaf, stem, branch and trunk are covered.
2. Follow a regular spraying schedule — twice a month from spring through fall.
3. Water the plants thoroughly 24 hours in advance, so the spray materials will perform more efficiently.
4. Use proven spray squipment —faulty guns only waste chemicals and valuable gardening time.

Private Swim Pool Is Safe -- Inexpensive, Too

To some people, the term "private swimming pool" means a luxurious and expensive installation available only to the rich.

To others, it may mean an inexpensive dunking place in the back yard, rather unsanitary and something of a nuisance.

Actually, neither of these extremes presents a true picture.

It should not be considered a luxury but a very worthwhile investment in fun and good health —an investment that will increase the value of your property by far more than the dollars you put into it.

The vital importance of understanding the true nature of God and man will be emphasized at services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon "Soul and Body," in Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The Scriptural readings will include Paul's statement to the Philippians (3:13,14): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (203:13): "Spiritual perception brings out the possibilities of being, destroys reliance on aught but God, and so makes man the image of his Maker in deed and in truth."

PG&E to Honor County Employes

Pacific Gas and Electric Company will honor one hundred and ninety eight employes of the company's Contra Costa District at a recognition dinner at Pioneer Village, Lafayette, at 7 p.m. Monday.

They are among 4,230 PG&E people throughout Northern and Central California who will receive badges this month in recognition of their years of service, according to H. V. Worthington, District Manager. Employes are honored after each five year period of service.

"Experience is one of the most important factors in providing superior utility service," Worthington said. "The value to the company and its customers of people like these who grow in their jobs year after year cannot be over-emphasized.

"They form the heart and backbone of the PG&E employe organization that enables the company to continue its steady growth in Central and Northern California."

Worthington noted that 900 people in the group will be recognized this spring for 20 or more years of service. Almost 3,500 of PG&E's 17,400 employes have now been with the company two decades or more.

C. J. Douglas, 52 Diablo View Road, Walnut Creek has qualified for his 35 year badge this year.

Nursery School To Hold Dance, Honor Organizer

The Orinda Nursery School Association will honor one of its charter members at the school's Annual Informal Dinner Dance May 26 at the Diablo Country Club.

Guest of honor, Mrs. Stuart Henderson, Orinda's Woman of the Year, was one of the 12 mothers through whose iniative and foresight the school was organized as a cooperative in the early 40's.

In those days the 12 mothers took turns supervising a backyard play group of pre-school youngsters. From this modest beginning the cooperative nursery school has grown to include more than 150 members and three full-time teachers.

The non-profit cooperative school claims the distinction of being the oldest continuing organization in Orinda, its success being due largely to the ever-growing body of loyal alumnae who annually support the organization's one and only fund-raising event, the Nursery School Dance.

served at 9 p.m., Mrs. Fenn Wilson, dance chairman, announced, followed by dancing to the music of Gordon Heche's orchestra until 1.

Asisting Mrs. Wilson on the dance committee are Mesdames Robert Brorsen, in charge of invitations; Thomas Cullen, posters; Paul Fanning, decorations; Roger Olson, prizes; Arthur Sassone, publicity; Daryl Mitton, treasurer; and Clinton DeWitt, tickets.

Anyone wishing tickets may call Clifford 4-5783 or 4-5361.

At the last regular meeting of the association, officers for the coming year were elected. They are: Mesdames Ned de Laveaga, president; Edward Smith, vice-president; Heber Smith, secretary; I. A. Moreskine and C. S. Ford, treasurers; Russel Usinger, purchasing; Thomas Cullen, maintenance; Francis Watson, publicity; Howard Hoyt, Dwight Skaggs and David Brunson, representatives.

Installed as new officers were: president, George Sanko, Lafayette; educational vice-president, Bill Thaler, Lafayette; administrative vice-president, Forrest Bryant, Orinda; secretary, Ken Anderson, Orinda; treasurer, Rich Stampley, Orinda; sergeant-at-arms, Dave Baird, Lafayette.

Program winners for the evening were: Larry Sommers, victor in table topics, and Hank Swab, for best speech.

Two Dons Win National Honors

Two Acalanes students have been announced recipients of high national scholastic recognition, Certificates of Merit by the National Merit Scholarship program. The two students are Lynn Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davidson of 3345 Rowland Drive, Lafayette, and Jay Bridges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges of 3972 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette.

The award was presented by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, an adjunct of the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation, in its 1955-56 "national search for students of unusual ability." Students selected "rank in abiltiy among the top one or two per cent of the high school seniors of the nation," the National Merit Scholarship Corporation states.

Jay Bridges received his award for particular merit in engineering while Lynn Davidson's award was for demonstrated competence in liberal arts.

Mrs. Rheem Dies After Illness

Death took Mrs. Alice Rheem last Friday after a long illness. Mrs. Rheem, wife of Oakland area industrialist Donald L. Rheem and member of a pioneer Bay Area family, died in Oakland. She had lived with her husband at the Rheem estate on Moraga Road in Moraga.

She was the daughter of the late William S. and Alice R. Goodfellow, who settled locally in 1875. Her father was an attorney in San Francisco and her mother was active in social circles for nearly half a century.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Rheem is survived by two brothers, Arthur W. Goodfield of Pebble Beach and George A. Goodfellow of Oakland, and a sister, Mrs. Leon de Fremery of Oakland.

Her husband is now an officer of the Rheem Manufacturing Company and has been active in development real estate in Moraga.

Funeral services were held in the Chapel Albert Brown Mortuary. She was entombed at Mountain View Mausoleum.

Local Students Complete Job Survey Meetings

Acalanes students recently completed an array of 31 vocational panel meetings this year to give students an opportunity to hear and question successfully employed professionals and artisans.

The final panel just held on job opportunities in chemistry featured Dr. Joseph Byrne, superintendent of the process department of the Union Oil Company, at Rodeo.

The list of 31 occupations covered by panels this year was determined at the beginning of the school term by a student vocational interest and preference poll in which each student listed the occupations in which he is most interested. Every student had the opportunity during the year to attend at least two panels which consisted of local people successfully engaged in the occupation discussed.

According to Bruce Handley, Acalanes counselor in charge of the vocational panel program, from the point of view of attendance, teaching with 134 students attending the panel, engineering with 115 potential engineers, and nursing with 103 girls attending, drew the most interest.

"Instead of focusing the question of choosing a vocation during one 'career day' or one 'career week' in the year, the Acalanes vocational program is stretched out during the entire school calendar with as much opportunity as possible provided each student for becoming familiar with the requirements, economic rewards and drawbacks or attributes of occupations in which the student feels he has an interest.

"Over a period of four years at Acalanes, a student has had a chance to investigate at least eight vocations," Handley said.

Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren explained that in addition to the vocational panel program, study units on selecting vocation are included in regular social studies courses. Special help is also available on an individual basis at all times through the student's counselor.

Vocational panels held at Acalanes this year included: professional, sports, selling, teaching, auto mechanics, social work, electronics, nursing, political science, journalism, law enforcement, farming, construction trades, law, accounting, dramatics, dance, wildlife management, clothes designing, modeling, forestry, engineering, business administration, art, aviation, medicine, music, science, ranching, archtecture, secretary, stewardess and chemistry.

CRANKCASE SLUDGE

Crankcase sludge accumulates much more rapidly in an automobile in winter than during summer because of vapor which forms on the cylinder walls.

Ths is why, more frequent flushing of the crankcase in winter is advisable.

Parents' Club To End Year With Program

Acalanes students will present the program at the last Acalanes Parents Club meeting of the year at the school gym Monday at 8 p.m.

Outstanding acts have been selected from the student assemblies given during the year. Several numbers will also be presented by Richard Hansen's choral group, said Mrs. John Rinne, club president.

New officers to be introduced at the meeting will be Frank Dees, president; Mrs. George Eberhart, vice president; Mrs. Marshall Shapiro, recording secretary; Howard Laney, treasurer; Melvin Strubridge, auditor; and Mrs. John Rinne, parliamentarian.

Refreshments in the cafeteria will follow the brief business meeting and the program. Mrs. Phipps Rasmussen heads the list of hostesses for the evening.

Dons Donate $100 For Center Paint

Acalanes students have raised $100 to help defray the cost of painting the nw Lafayette Community Center. A check for that amount was this week given to Clifton E. Brooks, representing the Center, by student body president Gene Bell.

Bell stated that Acalanes students will also be on hand to put on the paint when the construction process reaches that level of completion.

Canyon, Moraga Trustee, Bond Issue Votes Today

School trustee and bond elections are in progress today as Moraga and Canyon voters decide the courses their respective schools are to follow.

Although ballots for trustee positions will be available in both areas, the only contested seats are on the Moraga board, where four candidates are running for the vacancy left by incumbent William J. Ross, who has not filed for candidacy.

Candidates for the trusteeship there are Edward J. Bisiar, F. R. Devin, Alfred W. Ferreira and F. B. Glasky.

The elected candidate will join John A. Saundrs and Harry L. Rohrer on the board next year.

Decision on a proposed $250,000 bond issue and a proposed $250,000 state loan authorization will be made by the Moraga voters today.

These funds, should the issues be approved by the voters, would aid in school development.

A different situation is apparent in Canyon, where incumbent John P. Shally is the sole candidate for the board spot opened by the expiration of his term.

Shally seems certain to regain his position on the board, alongside Mrs. Philonima Drake and Alan R. Crawford.

Polls are open at the Moraga School from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. for the Moraga elections, and at the Canyon School between 3 and 7 p.m. today.

"A NIGHT OF HARMONY" will be staged at Miramonte High School by Explorer Scout Post 300, under sponsorship of the Orinda Rotary Club, Saturday night, May 26, at 8 o'clock. One of the seven Barbershop quartets to entertain comprises, left to right, Don Tichuer, Randy Clow, Cal Bodily and Bill Nuoffer. (Bill's from Orinda.) The program will also feature Berkeley's championship Barbershop chorus of 40 men. Proceeds will help send Post 300 on a canoe trip into Canada. Tickets may be obtained from any member of Post 300 or the Orinda Rotary Club, or at a number of local business firms.

Moraga Board Reviews Sites, New Districts

Prospective school sites were the main discussion topics at the Monday night meeting of the Moraga School Broad at the Moraga School.

Jack Buckner spoke on the structural analysis report and the survey of potential locations of new schools made by the board. He disclosed that the board had found the Donald L. Rheem Company property an excellent prospective site.

"A school could be put very nicely on this property if we're able to secure it," Buckner commented.

School district jerrymandering was another item brought before the board. The soon-to-come revision will place Ranchitos De Moraga in the Orinda school district. John Sanders, board clerk, clarified the new division line, which will run up the middle of Ivy Drive, with maps and tracts.

The board also called a special meeting for May 28 for study of the coming school year.

List Candidates At Miramonte HS

The Miramonte Student Commission has announced the following eligible candidates for next year's student offices:

Floyd Blaney, Bill Houston for president; John Coffey, Linda Lancune, and Pam Trefts for vice-president; Bonnie Miner for secretary; Carol Cannon, Roxine Huntley, Eric Walling and Randy Young for treasurer; Mary Foster and Anne Frederickson, social secretary; and Marcia MacQuiddy for yell leader.

Election for student officers is slated in the near future.

Ah, this wonderful, beautiful sun! While I sit indoors slaving over a hot typewriter, the sun gives out with warm, healthy rays, the breezes blow and Mary Lee, my 16 month old, becomes practically a nudist.

SUN WORSHIPPERS

Mrs. Elinor Dickenson, Moraga Postmaster, took last week off "to work outdoors and get lots of sunshine." Look! No sun. So today, she reports back to work and what have we??

Next week Elinor will be in Sacramento; object, to attend the Postmaster's Convention, May 21 through 24. The seminar will be held in the new State Capitol Annex building. This will be a big convention, as both National and Regional officers will be in attendance.

May 13, being warm and sunny, John Thune Sr. was running the rototiller in the back yard. In case the word has gone around that he turned up a rattlesnake with the dirt, he would like to make it known that it definitely was not a rattlesnake, but just the fightingest gopher (?) snake he ever saw. Not taking any chances, he shot it, hitting it square between the eyes. Dead snake!

The Lance family, Bill, Edna and Chuck, with their guest, Roger Franklin, son of Bing and Hilda Franklin, Larch Avenue, returned Sunday evening from Jackson, California. They left Friday afternoon, and spent two very beautiful days, camping in their trailer house, beside the Tuolumne River, fishing. Reports are, they caught eight fish, enough for one breakfast. According to "fish study," the river was too high for good fishing. Try, try again.

While on the subject of fishing, word comes from Bill and Jan Rhodes, formerly residents of Moraga and who are now living in Redding, that they have grown to like their new home very much, particularly the great amount of fishing that is available there.

The Rhodes still own a house on Larch Avenue, so do get back here now and then. However, Jan said she expected it would be Christmas before she would be finding time off from the fish to make the trip down.

The other day saw the first modeling show for Miss Joan Carroll. Jean, who is the daughter of Tom and Jeanna Carroll of Orinda, has been attending the John Powers Modeling School in Oakland, and although she hasn't graduated yet, was putting her training to very good use, according to her mother and Mrs. Anita Trinidad, who were guests at Sanford's Restaurant in Montclair, where the Fashion Show was held. Dresses were supplied by the Joseph Silva Dress Shop in Montclair.

MEANDERINGS

Mrs. Anita Trinidad, of Moraga Road, left this past week for Los Angeles. She will be visiting with friends, the Dom DuBains, for an indefinite period. Rest easy, she will be back!

Here's wishing you a lot of luck in your chosen career, Joan.

Reporting back to his base after three weeks leave is Lieutenant William G. Cumming Jr., MSC (USN). Lieutenant Cumming, who lives on Rheem Boulevard with his wife, Katherine Elsie, has a very interesting job. He is a psychologist, stationed at the Treasure Island Dispensary.

Mrs. Cumming, known to her friends as Elsie, is an ex-Navy Nurse, with the rank of Lieutenant j.g. She spent two and a half years, from 1951 into 1953, doing duty with the Navy at Jacksonville, Florida, and a Camp Lejune, North Carolina.

From Navy Nurse to Navy wife. It's a wonderful life. Elsie tells me they spent the three weeks working around the place, and of course, there is always PLENTY to do around home, especially when it is a new-born community, lovely houses minus landscaping.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Gershwin score sends music lovers soaring

THE MUSIC OF GEORGE GERSHWIN as it was presented on the 90-min. TV tribute to the great composer Sat. nite was something to send all souls soaring! We're STILL up in the clouds and ifrmly convinced that this hour and a half of musical greatness cured our cold and lifted us out of our lingering lethargy. Music hath charms, you know, especially Mr. Gershwin's!

With one classic song flowing into the next and no interception by commercials, the program w/top singing performers and a tremendous orchestra provest highest entertainment for the entire family. Especially for mother, who served steak and salad at five and then settled down w/a pot of coffee. If you stepped out too early and missed this one, you should be very sorry!

The camera closeups of the piano keyboard in the intricate playing of "RHAPSODY IN BLUE" were like nothing we've ever seen or heard before. But that was Gershwin's gift . . . to get more music, more new tones and sounds, out of any instrument than anything else ever written!

Excerpts from "PORGY 'N BESS" incl. Cab Calloway's unique song-style and strut as the villain in his own version of "There's A New Boat Leavin' "! Four Baldwin Grand pianos played simultaneously, each a different part, of "Fascinating Rhythm" and we literally floated out the window and up on a cloud!

Having just descended, w/a head full of music and minus our cold, we're bound to mix in a few songs w/some of our scribblings—

"SUMMERTIME . . . AND THE LIVIN' IS EASY" . . . Pools are opening and the memberships high! (In number, note, not moneywise!) Orindans, lucky ducks, swim six mos. of the year and living here from May through October is like being on a six-month summer vacation, we've heard people say, and we agree!

Atmospheric Orinda Park Pool, w/1500 individual memberships, opened last Sat. and tho' the chilly breezes blew, most of the kids talked Mom into letting them get a wee bit wet anyhow! Mrs. Richard Krall, who w/her husband is the new resident-caretaker, was busy at the Canteen being introduced to everyone by affable Shirley Jones . . . The Kralls replace Jeff and Martha Moulton who are currently managing a business for a former pool board member at the Travis Air Force Base.

The other old-timer, OAK SPRINGS Pool, opens this coming Sunday, newly-painted and refurbished in its woodsey setting, w/an associate membership of 80 families and some 30 local family memberships.

The season of the big splash

Their new concrete cousins, Sleepy Hollow and Meadow Pool in Glorietta, will be christened w/chlorine sometime mid-summer, Meadow Pool memberships are filled w/some 250 family members. Sleepy Hollow, currently singing the bathhouse-blues since the elements slowed down the building of same, will open w/287 family memberships, 63 openings to go. You are invited to get in the swim here by calling Bud Kocher at CL 4-3235 for further info!

" 'S WONDERFUL, S'MARVELOUS," the many private pools here, too . . . There's a new one at the Stephen Jensen's on Chas-Hill which has sent out invitations for its own "pool-warming" party tomorrow nite!

"A FOGGY DAY . . . in London town" . . . In Berkeley, too, for that matter. May 5 when Alder Branch members and their guests gathered for the annual festive LUAU at TRADER VIC's . . . once inside, however, the fog was forgotten amid the tropical atmosphere and the tantalizing aroma of Trader's victuals which incl. fruit-filled papaya, rice pilaff, and veal port au prince.

Orindans transplanted to the tropics for the LUAU party were Mrs. Robert (Joy) Brorsen, who headed the affair, and arrived w/her husband Bob and the Campbells, Bruce and Mary . . . The Philip Angells, Nancy and Paul Fanning, Bev and Joe Sweet. Other twosomes tabled in the large crowd were the Emerson Wisers, Gerry and Lois Bixley, Jackie and Bill Robinson, the Paul Mousers.

"RHAPSODY IN BLUE" . . . They must have had a way w/the weatherman, the women who planned the elegant "Festival of Fashions and Flowers" held as a Children's Hospital Benefit at the Howard homes and Gardens in WC last week.

Men's fashions cause flurry

It was gloomy elsewhere, but this particular spot of lush gardens, lawns, terraces and trees rated a special smile from Ol' Sol who considered himself honored guest!

Taking a cue from the Japanese decor, Walnut branch members greeted guests wearing the popular new Bankers' Coats . . . Modeling fashions from Alfred Nipkow's were Orinda's Mrs. John (Kathleen) McFarland and Mrs. Calvin (Betty) Hagstrom, both in slick summer sportswear. Another Orindan, Mrs. Robert (Jane) Jurs, donned several classis spectators outfits which she wears so well, one a brilliant red blazer atop a white skirt, another combination of a pink cashmere skirt and a pink capeskin jacket.

Some 1200 guests applauded esp. loud and long for the male models, one of whom was Stanford man Tom Morrish, son of the Kendric Morrishes, looking VERY Stanford (we almost said Ivy-Leaguish) in walking shorts, long sox, in "the look" most women like but men are reluctant to admit they do, too! Helen Gibbs and Jane Brobeck together at a table, Ellie Dodge and Libby Ballard another duo.

"FASCINATING RHYTHM," and other Gershwin tunes played at the piano by Pete Wilkin, who whipped up a fine combo to delite the jr. orioles and their guests at the May 4 dance held in Berkeley . . . The Charles Curriers came too, w/Lonnie helping the younger set to an even more memorable evening w/her singing of "Embraceable You" and other favorites!

On the dance floor, Judy Parker, club treasurer, w/Eddie Deemer . . . Dede Mitchell dancing w/Ron Dinkle, Georgeanne Watkins escorted by Laird Eikmeyer . . . Robin Mark, the group's president, was in a turquoise cotton dancing frock, requesting tunes w/Corky Roberts of Piedmont. Both pleased as punch w/the 5-pc. combo produced by Pete, who besides playing a wonderful piano, is the grandson of Mrs. King Wilkin, Canon Dr.

Came time for coke and cookies . . . Judy Miner w/Jay Bridges, in a pretty red Lanz-type dress she had made herself . . . Pat Bacon, Judy Sindahl, Paul Albright were some of those from Orinda having fun at the fund-raising fling!

"SWANEE . . . how ah love ya, how ah love ya, My Dear Ol' Swanee" . . . Well, break out your best south'n accent and join the FUNd-Raising Young Republicans at their "Cotton Pickin' Cocktail Carnival" set for tomorrow, 4-7, 24 Owl Hill Rd. . . . One dollar per head, two heads, two dollars can guarantee you a wonderful eve. w/games of skill, fun for all, and the unusual diversion of picking cotton to find the silver dollars!

Textbook Group Urges Changes

Of major significance is the recently issued report of the Assembly Education Subcommittee on Textbooks, headed by our own assemblyman, Donald D. Doyle.

For many months the problem of what many considered an antiquated, unsatisfactory textbook situation in the elementary schools has concerned the people of this area and the entire state.

In a series of hearings, surveys and inquiries, the subcommittee questioned educators, school administrators and others — and found that "all but a handful were critical of some aspect of the workings of the present state system for elementary textbook adoption."

It was learned that major publishers of elementary school textbooks would not release their plates to the state, and that many of the textbooks the school districts have had to purchase from the state have been unsatisfactory. Furthermore, many districts, in order to obtain suitable textbooks, have independently bought books from "outside," since they felt they could not use the books that were required to be purchased from the state.

This double expense, of course, has been an added load on the taxpayers.

The subcommittee declares that "California school children are deprived of many (if not most) of the elementary textbooks which are available in virtually every other state." It adds: "And among these 'unavailable' books are many which are nationally-recognized as the most suitable for their particular grade and subject."

What can be done to rectify the situation?

The subcommittee has some specific recommendations, most important of which is amending an 1884 section of the state constitution which makes California one of only two states which still cling to a rigid system of "single, exclusive" textbook adoptions.

The report concludes:

"If California is to bring its elementary textbook adoption procedure as up-to-date as are most other aspects of education in the Golden State, it will have to amend that outmoded section of the constitution; and this must be done ultimately by majority vote of the people.

"This committee feels that the necessity for such a change in the interests of the nearly two-millian elementary school children of California will be readly recognized by the people of California and their elected representatives when the facts are made widely known."

Such an amendment, the subcommittee points out, would allow operation of a system in which local school districts of sufficient size would be permitted to purchase the elementary text books they consider most suitable.

This procedure, Doyle stresses, "is basically the same system which California itself has used satisfactorily for many years in the selection and adoption of its high school books."

Additional copies of the official committee report on elementary textbooks are available from the Asesmbly Interim Committee on Education, 3718 Grand Avenue, Oakland.

It seems important for local school administrators and teachers, as well as all interested citizens, to study the report carefully.

What They Say . . .

'Best Friends' Are Varied Here

They used to say that a dog is man's best friend.

It just ain't so anymore. Nosirree. The menagerie of man's pals now seems to include everything from fowl to fish.

Your inquiring reporter, while regretfully downing a roast chicken dinner last week, (a chicken may be somebody's mother) wondered what was the pet situation of the local folk.

Arming himself with catnip and old steak bones, he ventured forth and asked, "Do you have pets? Do you think this is a good area for pets?"

"We have a dog and a parakeet," replied L. L. Neumann of 21 Broadway Terrace, Orinda.

Can the bird speak? was obviously the next question.

"Yes," answered N e u m a n n. "My daughter Jo Ann taught him to speak. We've had him since 1952.

"I THINK this is a good area for pets if they're kept within the owner's jurisdiction."

10 year old Bruce Nickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mal W. Nickerson, 6 La Hambra Court, Orinda, had a different slant on the parakeet situation. His can't speak, he told us disappointedly.

"But," he said, brightening, "we have a cat, too. Her name is Fluffy." Bruce thinks the area is fine for pets since Fluffy spends most of her time playing safely in a neighbors yard. Wonder how the neighbor feels.

Of course, not everyone has a pet.

Mrs. Raymond G. White, the wife of a reverend, lives in a Lafayette church apartment, and finds it just too small for little animals.

"I DON'T HAVE any pets," she said, "but I think this is a good area for them if they're kept in control."

Mrs. W. M. Wickstrom, of 3480 Monroe Avenue, Lafayette, has found her experiences with pets kind of discouraging.

"No," she answered, "we don't have any pets. We had a dog a while back but had to give him to Pets and Pals when he got too big."

She thought this was a good area for pets as compared to the city, but added, "I'm kind of sick of dogs, though, because we always have 15 or 20 h a n g i n g around the house."

It's wonderful to have so many friends, isn't it?

The "English Springer," a type of spaniel, is ideal for children, according to Cedrick Woods of 125 Doris Drive, Pleasant Hill, who is master of "Satan."

His youngsters, Gregory, 7, and Joy, 10, enjoy Satan, the dog that is, who was purchased when a cocker spaniel in the family died.

"A CAT IS a more reasonable animal to have in a subdivision as ours, but we have a Samoyed Collie named "Katie," declared Mrs. John Plumb of 155 Jennie Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"We bought the dog when we lived near Santa Barbara. There was a lot more room there. Here, there is a dog for every two homes and garbage man day, Tuesday, is harrowing for garbage man and dog owners!"

No pets for the J. H. Brodigan family of 20 Miramonte Court, Walnut Creek, for at least another year, says Mr. Brodigan.

They just got rid of a cat, because tabby's path too often crossed with that of Robert, their one-year old baby.

"THIS IS A good area for pets, though, and we'll probably get a dog, maybe a cocker spaniel, in another year or so," commented Brodigan.

"Bambi," a cross between a cocker spaniel and a chihuahua followed Neil Frazer of 1061 Homestead Avenue, W a l n u t Creek home one day 10 years ago, and stayed.

"He's a good little dog. Once, riding in town, he jumped out of the car, and ran to his old home, but he later came back."

Letters to The Editor

ABOUT VA HOSPITAL

Dear Editor:

In February of this year two organizations to which I belong, the Contra Costa Women's Planning Council and the Orinda Association, upon hearing rumors of the possible establishment of a V.A. hospital in Orinda-Moraga, wrote to Congressman John Baldwin expressing great concern over the effect of such a hospital facility on the residential character of the area and questioning its impact on the adjoining high school.

In taking this early stand against the Orinda-Moraga site selection, these groups followed their customary pattern of concern for the welfare of school children and the protection of the rural residential qualities of the communities involved.

THESE ORGANIZATIONS have from the start opposed the introduction of any regional industrial activities such as the proposed PIE office and the industrial zones in Moraga sought by the Utah Corporation. Such opposition was another aspect of their consistent concern for schools and homes.

It is interesting to note that a small group which vigorously worked to open Orinda to outside mercantile activity has taken a sudden stand in opposition to the V.A. hospital.

It is also interesting to see the Utah Corporation "opposing" the V.A. hospital at the same time they look hungrily about for light industry for the Moraga Valley.

IT SHOULD BE apparent to anyone who thinks twice that if Orinda-Moraga is to become a busy mercantile hub with thousands of employees working in administrative offices and the controlled manufacturing z o n e s sought by the Utah Corporation—the residents of this area cannot hope to rule out such land uses as a V.A. hospital.

The Women's Planning Council and the Orinda Association have been on record for a long time as vigorously opposed to both types of land use. Neither is compatible with the particular area.

We are threatened with both because the County Board of Supervisors has been AND STILL IS playing politics with planning matters. Some of the finest residential areas in California are at stake.

Yours in the interest of a protective master plan,

MILDRED H. FARRAR

HEADLIGHT BLINDNESS

If you've ever been blinded by the headlights of another car at night, you know it takes several seconds before you can see clearly again. If you are traveling 40 miles an hour you will cover 176 feet in that time.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

Pocketful of paragraphs

By July 1, residents who live in the unincorporated areas (and shop in stores in the unincorporated areas) will probably be paying one per cent more sales tax. Cities, of course, have been charging this for some time. Acting under recent legislation, Contra Costa County is now working out details. There's more info on this in the first section.

June will not only bring love, elections and summer but the annual Grand Jury report usually is released then. I hope the current Grand Jury does a better job than its predecessor.

There is much activity in the supervisorial race, District 2 (Crockett, Orinda, Lafayette, part of Walnut Creek, Alamo and San Ramon Valley), where seven candidates are fighting for the two top spots in the June primary. Let's not forget to keep an eye on "up county," where two other campaigns for supervisor are raging.

Several political dopesters pick young, popular Sam Conti, an attorney, over Incumbent Bud Buchanan in the Pittsburg area. Conti, a Republican, walked away with labor's endorsement the other day. In the Antioch-Brentwood district, however, Incumbent Jake Frederickson is figured to be no. 1 in June but will probably fight it out through the general election with one of the three other candidates.

Don Doyle Still Amazing

Hard-shelled party politicians are constantly amazed at the political ability of our Assemblyman Don Doyle. His latest coup is winning the endorsement of Labor's League for Political Education, the political arm of the State Federation of Labor.

This follows his earlier endorsement by the Committee on Political Education, representing Contra Costa AFL and CIO unions. Labor, of course, usually endorses Democrats. This makes it tough sledding for Democrat Assembly Candidate Russell M. Koch, attorney of Pleasant Hill. Doyle could very well win both nominations in the primary.

I talked to Congressman John Baldwin via telephone in Washington Monday about the Orinda Veterans Administration Hospital. I understand that John will not be able to leave the Congressional Halls in time to do much, if any, campaigning before the election. I know he will not be here Monday, May 28 when The Sun and Jaycees sponsor a Candidates' Night at Acalanes gym. That will be an interesting night — come along.

Caught with his bridges down

Supporters of our state senator, George Miller Jr., will perhaps accuse The Sun of playing politics, for criticizing his stand on the Southern Crossing. Contra Costa County Commuters Association, however, first brought up the problem.

In a letter to the Association and The Sun, Miller says, "In my opinion, the opening of a second bay crossing, whether it be a parallel or southern crossing, will provide relief for the residents of Contra Costa County, for certainly those who live in Southern Alameda County and who now use the Bay Bridge will travel by the new route thus relieving much of the present traffic now using the Bay Bridge."

Miller is usually a well-informed man bue he simply hasnt' read the facts the past few years. State engineers point out that only 19 per cent of the traffic would be diverted from the Bay Bridge by a southern crossing.

Miller is usually a well-informed man but he simply ing among the people of the Contra Costa County about a Southern Crossing . . ."

He possibly has not learned that both our assemblymen, Doyle and Masterson of Richmond, have fought it valiantly and brilliantly. Anyway, Miller's letter will be printed next week. I am amazed at his stand.

Don makes the grade

Bruna and Hugo Ferrarese are probably the only ones that are prouder of their son, Don Ferrarese, than I am. Last Saturday, as you know, Baltimore Hurler Don almost pitched a no-hit game against the New York Yankees. He missed this hall of fame on a freak bingle in the ninth. ((See sports page for details.) Don was reared in Lafayette and has a home in Walnut Creek. His parents recently moved to Apple Valley.

Speaking of sports: Hats off to the many wonderful, unselfish men who are guiding our Little Leagues and other youth baseball programs.

Hey, dad (or mom or both), want an outing with the kids tomorrow? It is Armed Forces Day and there are interesting programs and demonstrations at installations throughout the Bay Area. In our county, drive over to Parks Air Force Base. Offices, buildings and barracks are open. Exhibits have been prepared and at 10 a.m. there will be a big parade. Port Chicago munitions depot is open as well.

Have a restful and fun weekend.

He Gets Results..

Hubbard aren't too sure as they size up Jule Lindsey (second from left) and Jim Shierry, who model clothes to be shown at the Men's Fashion Show which will be held during luncheon at the Tunnel Inn, Lafayette, Tuesday, for the benefit of the Youth Building Fund of the Lafayette Community Center. The nuptial mass was impressive.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. E. L. Dessert, wore a French grey linen sheath with a large lace collar and a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

The groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress trimmed with white pique; corsage was white catalaya.

THE BRIDE wore an imported white embroidered organdy ballerina length gown with organdy mits and a pearl crown veil. Bouquet of white orchids and bouvardia and lily of the valley.

Attendants were Mrs. John J. Tierney of Lawndale, matron of honor; and bridesmaids who were Mrs. Bruno J. Chiavini of Walnut Creek, sister of the groom; Mrs. Gerald B. Dessert of Manhattan Beach, sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Robert J. Kielty of Stockton; Miss Judith Ann Dessert of Lawndale, niece of the bride — junior bridesmaid, wore yellow embroidered organdy dresses and yellow daisy crowns and carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies.

Ushers were Paul Olivr, cousin of groom — best man; Bruno J. Chiavini, brother-in-law of groom; Claude Bolender; Ben Cianfichi; Vince Colarossi; and Eugene L. Dessert, brother of the bride.

ORINDA NURSERY SCHOOL will stage its annual benefit dance at Diablo Country Club Saturday, May 26. Discussing plans for the event are, left to right, Mrs. W. E. Estes, Nursery School president; Mrs. Stuart Henderson, one of the early members of the Nursery School, and Mrs. Fern Wilson, dance chairman. Mrs. Henderson, Orinda's Woman of the Year for 1955, will be honored at the dance. Folk Dancers Visit 'Garden of Eden'

"The Garden of Eden" was the theme of the regular monthly folk dance party held by the Acalanes Folk Dancers May 12, in the Veterans Hall in Danville.

The hall was appropriately decorated with fig leaves and programs were in the form of paper apples.

Squares were called by Ted Darger of Martinez, Irene McNichols, Charlie Reilly and Frank EnEarl of Walnut Creek.

The committee consisted of John and Ethyl Leigh of Lafayette, and John and Ruth McKirahan and Bob and Florence Echols of Walnut Creek.

Refreshments were served after the dancing and a short business meeting followed.

Men's Styles To Be Shown For Center

New fare and fashions will abound when Contra Costans gather at the Tunnel Inn on Tuesday for luncheon and a view of "Fashions For The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit."

Co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Mel Nielsen of Lafayette have organized the show as a benefit for the Lafayette Community Center Youth Building Fund.

Commentator will be Mrs. N. C. Pinkus of Orinda. Programs were designed by Mrs. Paul Castleman of Lafayette.

Jay Bedsworth, who has donated all the facilities of his establishment, has planned the menu to include lobster tails and champagne. Tickets are available from Mrs. R. F. Ouer, AT 3-3543, or Mrs. Shirlee Marchant, AT 3-3083.

Gentlemen's fashions, which will range from walking shorts to evening wear, will be modeled by Ralph Ligon, Jule Lindsey, Ted Sawyer, and Jack Stirton of Lafayette; Don Norman and Ronald Light of Orinda; and Robert Graves, Robert Clough, Terry Rind, and Jack Ericksson of Walnut Creek.

Milady's millinery will be shown by the Mesdames Austin Edwards, Clyde Diddle, and Hy Tessler of Piedmont; the Mesdames James Reed, William Keating, John McFarland, Donald Norman, Ronald Hubbard, Gordon Ainsworth, G. R. Meyer, and Ramsay Underwood of Orinda; Midge Hayes of Lafayette, and the Mesdames Richard Bliesner, Jack Turman, and Kenneth Alexander of Walnut Creek.

Men's fashions are from Grodin's and Alfred Nipkow's in Walnut Creek, and Jim Shierry's in Lafayette.

Jenny Stal, Bradley Wed

A gown of white organdy was worn by Jenny Louise Stal when she exchanged vows with Donald Franklin Bradley, at afternoon rites in the Piedmont Community Church.

The waltz-length dress was worn with a shoulder-length veil and she carried a cascade of bouvardia and white orchids.

Swale F. Gordon of Orinda, representing her father, gave her hand in marriage. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willem Stal of Scheveningen, Holland, were unable to attend the nuptials but plan a visit later this summer. Rev. Holland F. Burr performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Church's Fireside Room.

Sole Bridal attendant was Miss Maria Harteveld who donned rose taffeta and lace with a matching hat of net, and carried pink carnations.

Don, as the benedict is known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Bradley of Orinda. He chose Robert Nelson of San Jose as his best man, and as ushers Dr. Murry Groves, William McDonald, Howard Myers and Frederick Wiltens.

Church soloist was Miss Charmain Barr.

The new Mrs. Bradley attended school at the Hague, Holland. Her husband is a graduate of the Admiral Farragut Academy and the Los Angeles Art Center School. During world war II he served as a corporal. At present he is a commercial photographer with studios in Orinda and Concord.

The young couple met as fellow passengers on ship while en route to Rotterdam from New York in 1953. A later visit by the bride to her husbands parents culminated in spring nuptials.

The groom's mother wore a rose-colored lace dress with hat to match and rose accessories.

Rams Grab Area Gym Championship

PHHS Gym Men Top All Squads In Season Finale

Saturday Gordon Maddux's outstanding lightweight gymnastics team wrote the sequel to an untarnished season record by winning for Pleasant Hill High School the Northern California Championships in San Jose.

An unprecedented accomplishment in the history of Ram athletic competition, the effort brought to Pleasant Hill showcases number three in a series of bronze gymnastics trophies.

Spearheading the victory drive were Artie Day, Terry Nevin, Terry Whittington, Bob Williams and Bill Cromwell, five "B" team stalwarts.

Contributing 12 points to the team score, Day won the long horse section, received second all around, fourth in the parallel bars and fifth in the rings.

(Five points are awarded for first place, four for second, three for third, etc.)

Nevin won in free exercise, finished third in tumbling and fourth in the trampoline division.

(Free exercise is a physical development routine combining phases of ballet, modern dance, tumbling and calisthenics. Contestants are judged with respect to poise, balance, coordination and difficulty of routine.)

Whittington's contributions were a first in the parallel bars and a third in the long horse section.

Williams won the rings, while Bill Cromwell took second in the rope climb.

Final scores were as follows:

First, Pleasant Hill; second, James Lick; third, Sequoia, fourth, Mt. Diablo; fifth, Richmond.

Varsity gymnasts are expected to have it tougher in their finals tomorrow at the University of California. They will meet James Lick, the school that handed the Rams a crushing 102-58 defeat three weeks ago.

PH Track Clan Whips Spartans

Sweeping 12 out of 13 first places, a reorganized Pleasant Hill track team overwhelmed the Pacifica Spartans 98-15 Monday.

In order to give team members an opportunity to earn letters, many first string competitors shifted from their special divisions and were allowed to participate in events of their own choice. The results of this revamping process, along with the accomplishments of new Ram contenders, were responsible for the fall of several school records.

Bob Ritchie, all-county basketball star, broke a Pleasant Hill stadium and school record with a 20'11" broad jump effort.

Running the 880 for the first time, Ram miler Wes Malloy led the field throughout the race to finish first by 150 yards.

Baron McDonald, Joe McFarland and Don Luxemburg received first, second and third, respectively, in the 220 yard run. Luxemburg won the century in 10.6, knocking two-tenths of a second from his best previous time.

Paul Opler won the mile in his first seasonal attempt.

Ray Rice added another "best effort" to the Ram ledger by heaving the shot 45 feet 2½ inches. Rice also won the discus event.

In traditional form, Jim McMillin won the 120 low hurdles in 16.1.

Other first went to Phil Rupprecht in the 440, Gary Casey in the low hurdles and Jack Coppack and Charlie Scott in a tie for the pole vault.

Pleasant Hill's 880 relay team (Don Luxemburg, Lee Brown, Phill Rupprecht and Jim McMillin) provided the final Ram first.

Pacifica nosed out Pleasant Hill 59-54 in the lightweight division.

Ram wins went to Bob Guyon in the 660, Jerry Warner in the 330, John Pratt in the pole vault and Larry Pratt in the shot put.

Rudy Amania, Lee Brown, John Pratt and Jerry Warner won the 440 relay for Pleasant Hill.

Diablo, Pitt Win Prep Track Crowns at Meet

The Mt. Diablo Red Devils, under Coach Hart Fairclough, copped the varsity Contra Costa Division, Diablo Valey League title last Friday afternoon at the Mt. Diablo High oval, while the Pittsburg lightweights outscored the field in the Bees.

The Red Devils racked up more than enough points for the win when they amassed 90 points, while Pittsburg posted 67, Acalanes 52, Las Lomas 20¾, Pleasant Hill 11½ and Antioch 5¾, with Pacifica failing to score.

In the field events, two records went by the boards—the Devils' Don Mattson heaved the shot 53' 5", and John Cadwell of the Dons set a new mark when he heaved the discus 130' 1".

IN THE RUNNING events no new marks were set, as a strong wind ruled out any new record times.

In the Bees, Pittsburg topped the field for the fourth consecutive time, with 91 points followed by Acalanes with 56, Mt. Diablo 50, Miramonte 20, Antioch 18, Pacifica 8, Pleasant Hill 3 and Las Lomas 1.

ONE OF THE TOP performances was that of Miramonte's frosh ace, Dixon Farmer, who took the 330 in 37.4 and was a double winner when he copped the high jump at 5' 10½".

In the varsity meet, local first place winers were Larry Pilcher of Acalanes, who won the 440 in 50.8; Karlsrud of Las Lomas, who won the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.1; John Cadwell of Acalanes, with his record-breaking 130' 1" in the discus, and double winner Butch DeVillers of Acalanes, who won the 180-yard low hurdles in 20.2 and took the broad jump with a leap of 21' 10⅜".

The Don Ferrarese Story: Road to Top Has Been Hard

By ERWIN MATTSON

DON FERRARESE, who graduated from Acalanes High in 1947, appears to have hit the jackpot after a long uphill climb in professional baseball.

In his first start in the big league, he struck out 13 Cleveland Indians, only to lose 2-1; then he came back to throw a 1-0 shutout against the powerful New York Yanks. In fact, Don drove in the lone run with a single.

His performances have brought him headlines, television appearances and notice in national sports publications.

Don's sudden big league glory has been accomplished through a lot of hard work on his part, and the path to the top hasn't been an easy one.

It has been interesting to note the comments regarding Don and how quickly everyone has jumped on the band wagon.

It so happens that I know Don and his story pretty well, having been fortunate enough to have had him on my teams as a junior and senior in 1946 and 1947.

Don was a great all-around athlete, being All-County as a quarterback on the football team. Possessed of a fiery competitive spirit, plus a quickness and determination that few could match, he was a brilliant passer. Many predicted that if he had gone on in college ball he could have been another Frankie Albert.

In basketball he was a fine forward and played as a regular on the championship and undefeated team of '46-'47. Other members of that team were Pete Kramm, who made All-Northern California center; Ed Bill, a forward, and Benny Strickland and Bob Curtis as guards.

Don hit better than 30 per cent of his shots from the floor in his senior year.

He never lost a league game in his final two years, striking out 10 to 16 in a game. He had four one-hitters and wound up his career as a prep at Acalanes by throwing a no-hitter against Mt. Diablo.

On the basis of his record, and thanks largely to the interest of Gene Perry, who was at that time a sports writer for the Oakland Post-Enquirer, Don was selecter for the All-Star game played in the Oakland Ball Park. He performed brilliantly and then went to New York and was awarded the Lou Gehrig Trophy for hurling the U.S. All-Sstars to a 13-2 victory over the New York All-Stars in a high school game watched by 31,000. He worked three innings, pitching no-hit, no-run ball while walking three.

DON RETURNED home to Lafayette and was given a civic reception, thanks largely to the work of Gene Perry and Lou Borghesani who were the workhorses of the day.

A huge caravan, complete with a band, met Don at the station and zrought him home through the tunnel, complete with a motorcycle escort and wound up at Acalanes Memorial Field, where he was feted and given a watch in appreciation from the community.

The next year Don went to St. Mary's College, along with his high school teammates Pete Kramm and Ed Bill.

He was a standout on the frosh basketball and baseball teams and that summer was signed to a professional baseball contract by Jimmy Hole, who had formerly coached at Piedmont High before taking up with the Oaks.

Don then was farmed out to Stockton, which was hot in a pennant race. In his first outing he won and was the town's hero. He was awarded luggage, a government bond and other prizes. He went to a barber shop for a haircut and was told it was on the house.

THEN HE LOST when he had trouble with control — people who had patted him on the back now razzed him. The catcher, who never did get beyond C league ball for any time, gave him a bad time with such cracks as "Get the ball over" — "You are not pitching against high school kids now," etc. He not only paid for his haircuts but got stony silence of sarcastic remarks.

In time he went to Klammath Falls, where an attack of appendicitis set him down — back to the Oaks for spring training, then off to Wenatchee in Washington where he spent considerable time.

I visited Don in Wenatchee and found him mighty discouraged. He had been benched as a pitcher with little work and took a turn in the outfield, due to his hitting ability.

Then Don came back to the Oaks with Charley Dressen at the helm. He worked a few games and then more and more.

I visited the workouts in spring training at Monterey when Dressen was in charge. I was interested in Don's development as well as that of Ernie Broglio, a boy from El Cerrito High who had been signed as a pitcher. At that time Dressen told me and the El Cerrito coach that neither of the boys was top caliber and would probably never reach the top. It has been interesting to see Dressen's comments since, whatever he says, you can bet it will start with a capital "I," if you know what I mean.

Augie Galan and Mel Ott took over as managers and gave Don little other than passing notice. In fact, when the Oaks were losing game after game under Ott, Don, after a month of no play other than a few scattered innings, threw a three-hitter to win, and then didn't throw again for three weeks.

Don really got off to a start when, after being with the Oaks, he was sent to Texas, where he won nine straight, set a strikeout record, pitched a no-hit, no-run, and drew national attention.

Along the line he had spent a hitch in the Army and was a sensation when he pitched some terrific games while stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

He played winter ball in Alameda in the off season and won two championships in a row, playing against many of the best big leaguers and Pacific Coast players.

He was sold to Chicago, then in a trade went to the Baltimore Orioles with Paul Richards as manager. He did well in spring practice and now appears to really be on the top after a long and tough row.

MANY WILL CLAIM credit for Don now that he has arrived, but the credit should really go to a kid who had a lot of what it takes in the way of intestinal fortitude.

A fierce competitor, he never says die and his path has been rough and rocky along the way. He listened and he worked.

Don in the off season lives with his wife and two children in Walnut Creek.

He is the kind of a guy we can all be proud of and, best of all, he still wears the same size cap he did as a prep at Acalanes, and when he comes home you will be as likely to find him helping some kid on a high school diamond as any place I know.

The guy who helped him the most was himself, with his fortitude and faith in his own ability to reach the top.

Ferrarese's Hurling Gets Top Rating

Don Ferrarese, a southpaw hurler currently with the Baltimore Orioles, has really hit the news with his recent pitching exploits.

Don graduated from Acalanes after a brilliant athletic career in 1947, went to St. Mary's College for a year and then signed with the Oakland Ball Club.

ON MAY 5 Don hit the headlines when, as a rookie in the Big League, in his first start against the Cleveland Indians, he struck out 13 — within two of the all-time record — but lost the game 2-1.

Then last Saturday he shut out the Yankees for the first time in 97 games, to win 1-0.

DON HAD a no-hitter going in to the ninth, when a ball hit the plate off the bat of the Yanks third baseman, Andy Carey, and he beat it out for a hit. Hank Bauer hit a Texas leaguer to left field for their only other hit.

Until the ninth only two Yankees had reached first.

Ferrarese with a single drove in the only and winning run.

HE APPEARED as a guest on the Ed Sullivan Show last Sunday and early in the week Casey Stengel of the Yankees offered to make a trade plus some cash with a total value estimated at $250,000.

Paul Richard of Baltimore is reported "not interested." In other words, no sale at any price.

Palo Alto and Hayward tied for third with 9. Mt. Diablo in 15th place with 6 and Albany with 3 points and 16th place were the only other Contra Costa schools to show in the final standings.

Harrison also took second in the 100-yard breaststroke when he was edged by Bill Cull of Richmond.

BILL FREEMAN took sixth place in the 200-yard freestyle race, while Vail Geissler copped a fourth in the 100-yard backstroke.

Ed Klass took third in the 100-yard freestyle.

In the 200-yard freestyle relay the Don team (Geissler, Kiesel, Freeman, Klass) won in 1:39.5.

IN THE BEE meet the winner was Carlmont, with 32 points. Campbell was second with 29, and Palo Alto third with 25.5.

Las Lomas in eighth place with 13 points was the only Contra Costa school to show in the point column.

Pete MacVean with a sixth in the 100-yard freestyle event.

THE 100-YARD MEDLEY team, consisting of Larry Telford, in the backstroke, Harlan Kenyon in the breaststroke, Manfred Weiler in the butterfly and Pete Ostrom in the freestyle, placed fifth with a time of 56.9, which is faster than the existing county record.

played in a record hour and 20 minutes.

The clubs wound up with six hits apiece, all blows being singles.

No Rams got more than one safe blow, while Markstein led the Dons with a pair of singles in three times at bat.

BRAKE FLUID

Here's a good habit to get into: when you have your car lubricated each 1,000 miles, have the service man check the brake fluid level. It only takes a minute and it's one of the most important service points to have checked regularly.

Dons Edge Rams In 3-2 Thriller

The Acalanes Dons and the Pleasant Hill Rams hooked up in a thriller May 10 with the Dons coming from behind to win 3-2, with the winning run coming on a squeeze play.

The Dons took a first inning lead when they scored a run after two were down.

STEVE JORDAN, sophomore right-hander, started on the mound for the Dons and had his troubles in the second frame when Left Fielder Dae Bartels led off with a single and First Baseman Bill Locatelli followed with a single, with Bartels going to third.

On the next pitch Locatelli stole second and, while the next batter, Third Baseman Jack Ulrich, grounded out, short to first, Catcher March Exner of the Rams, hit a single to left to score Bartels and Locatelli.

Pitcher Al Locatelli then grounded out, and when Left Fielder Tom Larscheid grounded out it ended the inning—and the game scoring, as far as the Rams were concerned.

Jordan shut them out in the third frame, with senior portsider Mike Marrett throwing shutout ball the final four frames.

THE SCORE remained 2-1, in favor of the Rams, until the fourth inning, when Don leadoff batter, Shortstop Gary Harmon, walked and Pitcher Mike Barrett did likewise.

Center Fielder Lon Marello singled, scoring Hansen, and Barrett wound up on third.

Second Baseman Gene Vincent struck out, and with one away Catcher Dave Bojarsky laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt, to score Barrett with what proved to be the winning run. Markstein struck out to end the inning.

Locatelli had but six batters face him in the final two frames, while Barrett faced but seven hitters in the final three innings, with the total seven innings being

Pitt Downs Knights 1-0

In a league game at Las Lomas May 10 the Pittsburg Pirates outhit the Knights 6-2 but in the run column it was much closer—1-0.

The big- all-important run came in the opening frame for Pitt after the leadoff batter, Anthony Aiello, third baseman, was on with a single.

DICK STANLEY, on the mound for Las Lomas, made it two on when he hit the next batter, Catcher Ken Smith, with a pitched ball.

Smith was forced at second when the next batter, Shortstop Emil Lozano, grounded to second, but Aiello raced safely to third and seconds later scored when Knight First Baseman Bob Riley booted a ball off the bat of Bob Fields.

Stanley bore down to strike out Center Fielder Rich Hernandez and ended the inning when he forced Second Baseman Saul Rodriguez to ground out, short to first.

Stanley went the rest of the way shutting Pitt batters out without a run, but it was too late, as Vic Gonzales hurled a shutout for the Pirates, giving up but a pair of singles over the route, one going to Left Fielder Roger Cowell and the other to Third Baseman Terry Yeager.

LEADING STICKER for Pitt was Rodriguez with two singles in three trips to the plate.

Smith went the distance behind the mask for the winners, while Tom Toland did the receiving for Las Lomas for six inings before being relieved by Ron Marsan in the seventh.

TUNNEL TROUBLES

Long ago . . . May 23, 1897. A barbecue was held at the William Buckley ranch, along which the road will wind to the mouth of the proposed tunnel that will pierce the hills, connecting Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

An inspection of the tunnel, which began 20 years ago and pierced the hill about 100 feet on the Contra Costa County side and 200 feet on the Alameda side, revealed the fact that it was completely filled with debris.

Representative people were present from Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. Subscriptions were taken and $1600 was subscribed by Alameda citizens and $1200 by Contra Costa County.

Mrs. Davis To Head County MARCH! Unit

MARCH!, the organization dedicated to aiding adoptable minority group children find homes, has a new Contra Costa County chairman, announces Frank H. Sloss, chairman of the MARCH! advisory committee.

Mrs. Foster M. Davis, 112 Doris Drive, Concord, will head the her volunteer activities in the adoption field, is the mother of two small children and currently is serving as chairman of the Speakers Panel on Adoption. She is also an active member of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Contra Costa County Adoption Unit and vice president of the Diablo Adoption Auxiliary

According to Mrs. Davis, the scarcity of adoptive applicants for minority group children (national figures shown that there are ten adoptable minority group children to every applicant, as compared to ten adoptive applicants for every adoptable child of the majority racial group) results both in hardship for children who need the security of permanent parents and a financial hardship for the community.

"The Contra Cost committee is one of the working arms of MARCH!," explained Mrs. Davis, "and offers the community a solution to this pressing child-welfare problem. Its members are an inter-racial group consisting of professional and lay leaders from every area of the county.

"Our first step will be to study actual conditions and to educate ourselves in the new techniques developed to solve this community need.

"I want to make it very clear that MARCH! has no children," Mrs. Davis continued. "Inquiries for the adoption of minority race children are referred to local adoption agencies.

"However, information may be obtained by telephoning MARCH! Headquarters, ORdway 3-4976."

A total of 116 MARCH! (Minority Adoption Recruitment of Children's Homes) referred couples have offered adoptive homes to date.

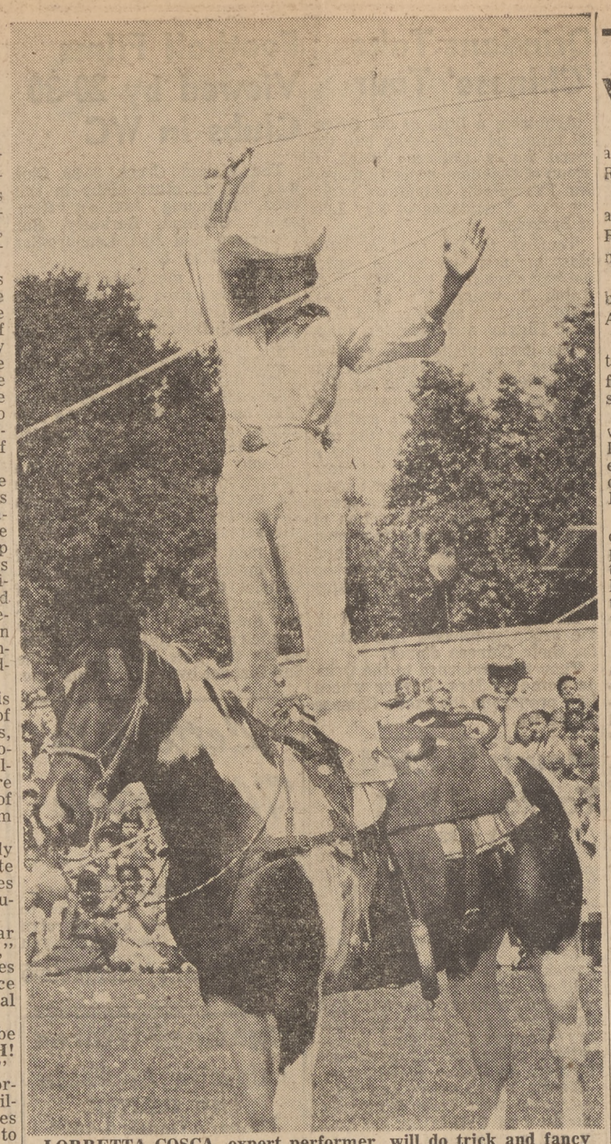
MARCH! is sponsored by licensed adoption agencies in the seven bay area counties, by the California State Department of Social Welfare, the Community Chest of San Francisco, the International Institute of San Francisco and the San Francisco Urban League Incorporated.

St. Mary's Will Hold Gathering

St. Mary's College will celebrate its annual Homecoming Sunday at the College. Grads from California, the western states, and Michigan will take part in the program.

The day will begin with a high mass in the College Chapel and will close with a dinner in Oliver Hall at 4:30 p.m. Jack Bannister, class of '35 and president of National Automotive Fibers, Inc., Detroit, Michigan, will be the guest speaker. His talk will concern the growing need of educated men in the field of industry.

Brother Thomas, president of St. Mary's, will welcome the alumni at the breakfast in Oliver Hall at 10 a.m. Harry Kelly, president of the St. Mary's College student body will give the grads a report on student activities.



LORRETTA COSCA, expert performer, will do trick and fancy roping at the Junior Horseshow and Rodeo at Rheem Center tomorrow. The event is sponsored by the Rheem Center Merchants Association. A 10 a.m. parade will launch activities, and from noon to 1 p.m. there will be a free barbecue lunch.

Pedder Tells GOP Backing

Campaign headquarters of Jack Pedder, Republican candidate for state senator, reported this week that "a 5000-postcard poll of Republican voters in the county" showed Pedder "far ahead of his Democratic candidate on the Republican ballot."

"The opposition is pouring it on with sign boards, quarter cards and 10 times the dollars we are spending, in the Democratic effort to win our Republican nomination," Pedder told his campaign workers.

"Every dollar, every hour of time and effort the Demos spend in their effort to qualify their senatorial candidate on our Republican ballot means just that much less spent on other Demo candidates," he continued.

"Every Republican voter must be told of the importance of voting for the Republican nominee for state senator on June 5. A win for Pedder in the primary will keep the Demos tied up through November and cinch our congressman's and our assemblyman's re-election," Pedder concluded.

INFLATE 'EM RIGHT

It's important to inflate the tires of your automobile to the correct pressure. The California State Automobile Association says that over-inflated tires fail to absorb road shock properly and cause excessive wear. Tires that are under-inflated suffer from breaks in the side walls.

Follow the recommendations of the manufacturer as to the correct tire pressure and then have it checked at least twice a month.

SALVATION ARMY Week throughout the nation will get under way Sunday, and the annual fund appeal in the Diablo Valley area will have a goal of $10,000. Salvation Army To Launch Fund Drive; 'Week' Begins

A campaign to raise $10,000 for the Salvation Army will be opened Sunday in Diablo Valley, according to a joint announcement made today by the four extension service committees representing Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill and Danville-Alamo areas. The drive will be in conjunction with national Salvation Army Week.

Acting as spokesman for the group which met May 12 to make final preparations, Jack Schneider, Lafayette Committee Chairman, said that money raised by the Salvation Army will be used for the expansion of many activities which have already been put into operation and to meet problems arising from the tremendous population increase of recent years in this area.

"Although we do not have very many calls for help in this area," Schneider continued, "emergency needs that arise within civic families are quickly known to the local committees."

Campaign organization is under the leadership of James Kral in Orinda and by Mrs. Phillip Greer in Danville-Alamo. Mrs. George Deubner will assist Schneider as residential chairman in Lafayette. Mrs. William Freeman is advanced gift chairman for that area and Fred Peglow will head-up the solicitation of businesses.

"The week commencing May 20 has been acclaimed National Salvation Army Week," Schneider said, "and we rely upon your generosity during our drive at that time. Please give as much as you can."

"We are still in need of volunteer helpers," he continued, "and anyone who could spare a little time to this wonderful cause is urged to call the temporary campaign headquarters any day between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. The telephone number is YE 5-0070."

Other service committee chairmen in the area are Stanley Allen, Orinda; Joseph Bell, Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill; and Harry O. Stewart, Danville-Alamo. One-fifth of the money raised in the separate areas will remain in its own community to be administered by the local committee for emergency, disaster and welfare purposes, it has been pointed out.

"Services to the Armed Forces is another vitally important part of the Salvation Army operation," Schneider commented, "during war and at present in conjunction with the USO programs."

He went on to say that the Salvation Army is currently gearing its services to the total program of Civilian Defense throughout California.

Money raised in the forthcoming campaign will also be used to help finance work of the Missing Persons' Bureau, a little known service of the Salvation Army, which locates from 250 to 300 lost persons every year in the State of California.

"Because its work reaches into so many fields," the committee spokesman revealed, "it is in a position to locate people who might not be found through any other means."

Funds will also be used, according to Schneider, to provide aid in the youth and child care field. Summer magic will be brought to over 2,600 California children and mothers this year through summer camps of the Salvation Army.

One of these camps, located in the Santa Cruz Mountains, is called "Redwood Glen." Some 200 acres of beautiful wooded land is turned over to the summer camping program at Redwood Glen where underprivileged children have a chance to learn crafts, outdoor skills, and know the joys of swimming, hiking, contests, games, sports of all kinds, along with wholesome associations and plenty of good food.

The camp, supported largely by public donations, is the answer to the summer prayer for boys and girls who would otherwise never have the opportunity.

"In metropolitan centers Red Shield Youth Associations, with their recreation facilities," Schneider stated, "are a potent factor in the fight against juvenile delinquency."

Describing other services available to Contra Costa County residents, Schneider continued. "Last year 17 youngsters from this county attended the Lytton Home and School opearted in Sonoma County by the Salvation Army. This 'Home Away From Home'," he said, "provides care as nearly normal as possible for children who might otherwise become wards of public institutions."

He said that they live in cottan ten and each has its own tages accommodating not more 'house mother' and an attractive, home-like atmosphere.

Elementary education is provided at the home itself, but older children are transported daily by bus to high school in Santa Rosa. At a cost of approximately $5.00 a day for each child, and after partial payment was made by outside sources, the Salvation Army has a deficit of $7,043 for the children from Contra Costa County alone, Schneider stated.

ROA Holds Convention; Locals Attend

Officers from all branches of the armed forces gathered at the Hotel Claremont recently at an annual three day Reserve Officers Association of the United States convention which many Contra Costans attended.

Serving as General Convention Chairman was LCDR George L. Stanton, USNR, of 228 Ivy Drive, Orinda.

Concurrently, the Reserve Officers Association Ladies Clubs held their annual convention, with Mrs. T. E. Hilson serving as chairman. She is the wife of Capt. Travers E. Hilson, USAR, of 3294 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, who has recently completed his term as vice president of the Army faction of the Department of California of the association.

Following registration, which was handled by CDR Guy B. Catterton, USNR, 316 Camino Sobrante, Orinda and Lt. Don Tyson USNR, 117 Hillcrest Drive, Orinda, a reception and cocktail party was held for various flag officers and civic officials.

This was followed by a reception held by LCDR and Mrs. Stanton in their suite for Rear Admiral Clyde King, USNR, and many other dignitaries.

An address by Lt. Gen. Robert Young, commanding general of the 6th Army, music by the 6th Army band, and special conferences pertaining to the association's aim of promoting a strong national defense were some of the following activities at the convention.

A formal military ball and banquet, attended by about 500 people, was one of the highlights of the meeting. Senator Thomas Kuchel, a member of ROA, gave a short address.

Assisting the banquet committee was Capt. John D. Riner, USNR, 868 Moraga Road, Lafayette, who was elected Department of California president for the Navy.

Among those attending the ball and banquet were Col. and Mrs. Dedrick Anderson, 234 Hall Drive, Orinda, Dr. and Mrs. William Egleston, 4144 Canyon Road, Lafayette, Lt. and Mrs. James Dana, 265 Camino Pablo, Orinda, Lt. and Mrs. E. W. Wassmann, Concord, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Walter Hughes, 3507 Freeman Road, Walnut Creek, and Maj. and Mrs. Ralph Shallenberger, 3624 Chestnut Avenue, Concord.

Quinney Blasts Baldwin in VA Hospital Row

"Congressman John Baldwin bungled his handling of the Veterans Administration proposal for a 500-bed hospital in Moraga," Democratic congressional candidate Dr. H. R. "B" Quinney charged this week.

"I do not mean to say that the VA plans are either right or wrong. I am in no position to do so," Dr. Quinney said. "But the handling of those plans by the incumbent congressman leaves a great deal to be desired."

"There is no doubt in my mind that he knew of the VA's plans well in advance. He should have long ago conferred with affected residents and property owners. He should have called public hearings to determine their reaction to the plan.

"Instead, the VA's plans came out of a clear blue sky like a bombshell on those persons concerned with its location next to Miramonte High School. And only after the bomb exploded, raising a cloud of negative reaction, did Mr. Baldwin call for a public hearing."

Orindans Take 'Chinese' Tour

Acquiring a little of the Oriental influence and getting into the mood for a Chinese dinner, a group of Orindans recently toured San Francisco's Chinatown under the expert guidance of Ray Lew of Berkeley.

Tourists to the land of lotus blossoms and joss houses across the bay were Mrs. Esther Parker, Ralph Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davison and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Higgins and daughter, Joan.

The group visited the original Chinese Temple of San Francisco and viewed the statue of Dr. Sun Yat Sen on the plaza, witnessed a hectic Chinese funeral, and meandered down some of the archives of the district and saw a collection of rare and priceless pieces belonging to a well-known curator of Chinees art. The group then went to the new section of Chinatown to compare the most recent temple with the old and then on to a Chinese pastry shop where they indulged in unique ginger-root sundae.

Having gotten the swing of it, the group purchased ingredients for their Chinese dinner.

They then returned to the Orinda home of Mrs. Parker where Lew preparade the exotic Chinese delicacies.

Meurk Elected To Naval Post

Carl Meurk of 52 Rheem Boulevard, Orinda, has been elected to serve for a second year on the Northern California executive board of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers.

At a meeting recently in San Francisco, Meurk was named vice-chairman for the Northern California section of the national technical society. He has just completed a year's term as secretary-treasurer of the same organization, composed of some 300 Northern California members.

Meurk, an engineer and price negotiator with Todd Shipyards, has lived in Orinda for the past six and a half years.

Football Films Viewed by 20-30 Clubs in WC

The Walnut Creek 20-30 Club was host to other clubs in this area, including Antioch, Richmond, Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco and San Leandro-San Lorenzo, May 1.

Sixty five members from the surrounding area met at the Las Palmas Hotel for a steak dinner and a sub-District business meeting.

Guest speaker was Roy Story, noted football sports caster and KLX radio employee, who showed films on the highlights of the 49er games of 1955, and commented on te players and coaches.

Kenny Gillespie from the San Francisco 20-30 Club added to the evenings entertainment with his humorous comments and caustic remarks.

During the business portion of the meeting, conducted by Sub-District Governor Pat Byron of Walnut Creek, elections were held for Sub-District officers. Vince Bandeira from Antioch was elected as the new governor of the Sub-District by a unanimous vote.

HOSPITAL SITE
Dear Editor:
Why does our Veterans Administration pick a spot adjacent to our high school to build a hospital? It doesn't make sense.. Of all the vacant land out that way, why do they want to snuggle up to the school?

For the past month or so it has been hinted that there might be a Veterans Hospital in Moraga Valley, and no one objected too much because it was expected that the hospital would be placed in a sensible place . . . but this! !

Schools are noisy in the first place, and in the second place a hospital that close to community life would not benefit itself or its neighbors. We know many of our veterans must be hospitalized and we sincerely want a fine place for them, but that place isn't next to our schools.

The ideally located new hospital would be in an area that has much room to develop the motels, hotels, staff quarters and parking facilities that an eight-story enterprise such as is proposed would require to accommodate its employees and the visiting families and friends of the veterans, and it would be some distance removed from our teen-agers, who have enough problems of gracious adjustment to adulthood without the added environment of hospitalized patients with time on their hands who would reside for weeks, months or many years at the hospital.

There are a hundred more suitable spots for a hospital in this county—why doesn't our Veterans Administration use one of them?

M. LONG

Dear Editor:
I am very concerned, indeed, to find so little interest in our County Board of Education election to be held today.

Although in the past the functions of that Board have been primarily furnishing services to the various school districts, "if properly constituted and stimulated, it can prove to be a potent instrument in the development of a better and more economical educational system.

No one questions the fact that our future existence as a nation of free people depends upon the education we provide our youth. Furthermore, public school education has become increasingly important as parents turn over to the school the character formation functions formerly done in home and church.

Public apathy toward this election is indeed alarming.

John Scaglione
Candidate
Contra Costa County
Board of Education,
Ward IV.

Somerton Cites C. R. Wallace's Added Support

W. H. Somerton, former president of the Lafayette Improvement Association, current president of the Contra Costa Planning League and a spokesman for the Citizens' Committee for Better Government which unanimously selected C. R. Wallace as its candidate for supervisor in the second District, stated this week that there is "tremendous support generating throughout the district for Wallace."

"From an original committee of 20 citizens living in Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Alamo, Danville and San Ramon, the list of sponsors dedicated to the election of Wallace has grown to 75 civic leaders," he said.

"The fact that there are seven candidates in the field is evidence of our interest in county government and our dissatisfaction with many recent decisions directly affecting our welfare.

"Polls taken throughout the district match what the people want in a supervisor with Wallace's qualifications, according to the report of the Citizens' Committee. These polls show that the people want:

"(1) A man who is free from busness connections who can base his decisions on what the majority of the people want rather than on subtle considerations; (2) a man who is actually in a position to give full time to a full time job; (3) a man who can bring to our county government something which has been sorely lacking—administrative training and experience.

"In C. R. Wallace we have found a man with all these qualifications. He has no business connections in or out of this county. He is fully retired and has pledged himself to full time service. He has demonstrated exceptional ability as a leader and an able administrator in Washington, D. C. We are indeed fortunate in this critical moment to find such a well-qualified candidate."

TRACTOR DOES THE WORK

A farmer with an oil-powered tractor can do the plowing work of ten horses, five hand plows, and ten men.

Larmer Protests Hospital Site

Edward M. Larmer of Lafayette has sent to U. S. Senators William Knowland and Thomas Kuchel and Congressman John F. Baldwin telegrams protesting a Veterans Administration program of constructing an eight-story VA hospital on 20 acres between Moraga and Orinda.

Larmer, candidate for Second Dstrict supervisor and a former president of the Contra Costa County Development Association, declared, "A site next to Miramonte High School is not good, for it would add numerous problems and would serve to destroy the residential integrity of the district."

Larmer added: "Such a program could well open the door for multiple type dwellings for accomodation of visitors and would make complex an already troublesome highway problem. The area is just unsuited for such a facility.

"I am not opposing a facility for veterans. I'm a veteran myself. I am opposed to the site when there are other suitable locations available. Six months ago I urged various organizations to act against an Orinda location."

Doyle Flood Bond Stand Hit by Koch

Russell M. Koch, Democratic candidate for the Assembly from the 10th District charged today that, "The present Republican Assemblyman Donald Doyle, was by his silence, partly responsible for the defeat of the Flood Contro Bond Election held in April."

Koch, in a talk before a group of Pleasant Hill Democrats said, "The incumbent pays lip service to Flood Control, but he failed to speak out publicly for the bonds which would have done the job. The present Republican incumbent claims credit for all kinds of accomplishments, from new bus stops to the whole State Highway Program, but he apparently didn't have the time or the courage to take a stand on an issue important to the whole district.

"This is just one of many examples of the incumbent's attempt to be 'all things to all men'."

Koch said of his own position on Flood Control, "I knew that the bonds for Flood control were not popular in some quarters, but I felt a responsibility as a candidate for the Assembly to let the people know where I stood.

"I favored the bond issue and so stated publicly and my wife and I worked for their passage."

Eunice Koller Says She Gives Her Own Funds

Eunice Koller, campaigning for supervisor of the Second District of Contra Costa County, made short talks to a dozen or more groups in the district recently. In all of them she emphasized:

"My expenses in the primary campaign are being financed by myself alone, from my own personal funds. I have refused all offers of financial assistance, and there have been many, in order that I may eel obligated to no one except the taxpayer in the event that my campaign is successful.

"That is why you see fewer 'Koller' ads, billboards, mailing pieces and so forth than you may see for the other candidates."

Mrs. Koller said that she and the friends who encouraged her to enter the race are conducting an expanding person-to-person campaign and feel that their results will be successful.

The candidate appealed to labor in an appearance before the Contra Costa Committee on Political Education.

"I have worked and brought home a paycheck," Mrs. Koller said. "And for 18 years I have been signing paychecks for union labor employed by my husband and me in our contracting business. I am happy to say we have never had a labor 'beef.' I think this is proof of my integrity and ability to work harmoniously with both labor and management."

Foster Appointed Kuchel Chairman

As Senator Thomas H. Kuchel's campaign for re-election gets well under way, Glen M. Foster, 1291 Pleasant Hill Road, has been named Lafayette Area Chairman for the campaign.

In accepting his duties, Foster reported there is a lot of interest in the Senator's campaign for re-election, judging by the number and enthusiasm of the "Kuchel for Senator" Clubs being formed in the Lafayette area.

Foster went on to say, "There isn't any question as to Senator Kuchel's loyalty, ability, and integrity. He has a natural advantage of being in the Senate where he made a record that needs no explanation. Senator Kuchel deserves the support of both parties.

"I believe we should elect a Senator who will help President Eisenhower carry out his program — not someone else who is campaigning against everything the President stands for."

Zion Speaks For Tax Equalization

"Property assessments are not equal in Contra Costa County today. We need to speed up the local equalization program so that each taxpayer is guaranteed a fair tax levy," William R. Zion, candidate for the county board of supervisors from this district, declared recently.

"So far the county has done too little too late, though for several years our assessor has been asking for the necessary staff. Finally, last year, a start was made, but not soon enough to stop the state board of equalization from singling out this county and ordering each individual assessment increased 35 per cent. Most taxpayers are painfully aware of the effect this had on their tax bills.

"Local taxes will go up again this year to replace the more than $1,000,000 the county's schools will lose in state assistance as an indirect result of the 35 per cent order," Zion warned.

"We can avoid repetition of such disastrous state interference by going ahead with the local equalization program. Recently-built houses and improvements are not the problem.

"In fact, because the yhave an they are the easiest types of easily-determined current value, property for the assessor to appraise at the desired level, and he has been doing so. What the assessor has not been able to keep up with has been the changes in value of vacant lands, older properties, and other items during the recent years of growth. Most such properties appear to be under-assessed today, though some may be over-asessed," the candidate added.

"The additional cost to the county of stepping up this equalziation program should be returned several times over by the taxing bodies can then either give additional assessments. Our local this money back to all the taxpayers by cutting tax rates, or use it to finance new needs.

"The main thing, however, is that we get equitable assessed values placed on the particular piece of porperty each of us owns," Zion concluded.

Scout Salute...

Ski Trip

Girl Scout Troop 44 of Orinda, under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Hall and Mrs. Robert Brown, recently enjoyed a ski trip to Phillips on Highway 50.

The girls and the parents who accompanied them stayed at a ski lodge, took a ski lesson and enjoyed a fine two-day stay in snow country. In addition to the leaders and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mel Arighi and William Harsha accompanied the girls.

Scout Clean-up

Cub Scouts of Pack 212, who just prior to the April Anti-Litter Campaign elected to clean-up the Orinda Village as a Pack Project were commended for a job well done by Clint Scarich, who took over the monthly pack meeting in Scoutmaster Carl Dudley's absence.

In Fellowship Hall on Friday April 13, the boys commenced the evening with the flag salute, Bobby Blue acting as color guard.

Following announcements, denners reports were given and monthly awards were presented to the following boys: Bobby Blue Lion; Sandy Cutler, Gold and Silver on Lion, Webelos and Den insignia; Frank Brawley, Webelos Den Insignia and Denner; Jerry Kirby, Wolf, gold and silver and Assistant Denner; Alvah Chapple, Wolf and gold and silver; Charles Wilma, Wolf and Denner; David Bell, Wolf and gold on Wolf.

Both Steve Scarich and John Wilma received their Wolf Awards. The gold on Wolf was presented to Chip Monahan, Mike Roth, Bill Lee, and Nicky Kleyn-Schoorel.

Teddy Behr, Silver on wolf and 2 year pin; Mike Yedidia, Bear; Bob Lee, gold on Bear; Tod Neuenschwander and Greg Adams, Denner; Bob Peterson and Mike Stutfield, Assistant Denner.

Three boys, Steve Dudley, Jay Angelo and Bob Peterson were awarded 2 year pins.

Former Orindan Andy Blalock brought interesting pieces of rock from his own collection to show the boys and told of his own experiences as a "Birdwatcher."

One of his former bird pets is now a permanent resident of Lake Merritt. Boys of Den 5 recognized the bird of which Blalock was speaking from their recent field trip there with Mr. Philip Bell.

Cub Pack 32

The clean-up drive may be over, but "Keep Orinda Clean" is an all year effort as far as Cub Scouts are concerned, said Cubmaster Bill Brock of Pack 32.

Den 6, under the leadership of one of the boys' afthers, Alberto DeGrassi, scoured the area around the clover leaf to the Orinda School recently. Other dens in the pack will take over the job in following weeks as part of their community service and will clean up other areas of Orinda.

Cub Scouts taking part were Allen Brooks, Carl Anderson, Bobby Spott, Danny DeGrassi, John Bonfield, Douglas Howard and Mark Nelson.

INVENTIVE

REGULATOR SETTING

One thing that adds to the life of your car battery is correct voltage regulator setting. This controls the rate of charge, prolongs the life of the generator and keeps the battery from going dead long before it should.
